TEACHERS ARE HERE.

Annual County Institute in Session at Hale's Opera House.

BRIEFS OF THE TALKS GIVEN.

Professor Albert of Bloomsburg, Ex-Commissioner Corson of Ohio and Dr. Brumbaugh of Philadelphia the Speakers.

The annual Bradford County Teachers' institue opened Monday morning at Hale's Opera House under the most favorable conditions. The week opened with splendid weather and the program arranged by County Superintendent Putnam includes a masterful array of talent. The opera house has been attractively decorated and there is no reason why this year's gathering should not equal if not exceed any institute yet held.

The morning session opened at 10:55 by singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," led by Professor O. H. Yetter of Blomsburg, who has conducted the music here for several years. Mr. Yetter is highly popular with the teachers.

Ex-Commissioner O. T. Corson of Ohio, read the scripture, taking the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, which, he said, was a chapter giving the best description he knew of a teacher and what a teacher ought to be. At the conclusion all rose and repeated the Lord's prayer.

Drawing of Seats.

The interesting proceeding of the drawing for choice of seats for the evening lectures was then taken up. Miss Gore of Athens shuffled the cards, Miss Taylor of LeRaysville drew them from a hat and Professor J. H. Humphries of Towanda read them to Miss Helen Rickey, who wrote them on the board. The first three winners were LeRoy township, Rome borough and Asylum township.

The First Lecture.

"Good morning, teachers," was the manner in which Professor C. H. Albert of the Bloomsburg Normal school greeted his first audience here. There was no response. "Good morning teachers," said Mr. Albert again. The teachers caught on. "Good morning, Mr. Albert," came with hearty accord from all over the house. Mr. Albert said he wished to briefly blaze the way for his subsequent work during his stay here. He talked on the school and its meaning, asked the teachers what books were in their private libraries and what use they made of them. He said that the teacher who didn't have different ideas and views of problems of the school since last year had not been thinking.

He gave several definitions which are worth recording and preserving. They were as follows: Psychology is taught that the pupil may be enabled to understand his soul power. Education is the science of human development. Teaching is the art of promoting human growth. It is making the thing you want to grow happy in its environment. Art, according to John Ruskin's beautiful definition, is the expression of man's joy in his work. In the version of Dr. Holmes the child begins to go to school 200 years before it is born. The child goes to school to learn to think.

Mr. Putnam, at the conclusion of Mr. Albert's remarks which were listened to with close attention and enjoyment, introduced Miss Maude Willis of the State Normal school at Lock Haven. Miss Willis recited "The Slow Race," as her first selection. Miss Willis made an instant impression. She has a highly pleasing voice and her graceful gestures and clear enuncation claim for her a high reputation in her profession. The institute adjourned at noon.

The Afternoon Session.

After singing Professor Albert took up the discussion of the definition of education as the science of human development. The child is to be brought forward and upward. He must learn the relations of things, he must have life more abundantly. Booker Washington's idea of true education for his people is that which makes an observant eye and a facile hand. A strong sense quality in the boy under six means that his faculty for reasoning will be strong in his later life, provided he be properly taught. Mr. Albert closed his talk with an interesting story of the Chicago teacher who won the heart and attention of a class of 15 foreigners by her tact on the first day.

Mr. Corson Introduced.

Mr. Corson was then introduced and made a strong talk on the aims of education. Mr. Corson has been in poor health for the past three years and this is the first institute work that he has attempted in that time. He said that if his breakdown was caused by overwork he was glad that that overwork was in the cause of education. Some of the good things he said were: "We are in danger of swinging too far away from fundamentals. The teacher ought to have a high mark and aim to hit the centre. The schools and education must keep pace with the material progress of this wonderful age. Education has not the aim of making life easier for its recipients. It is to fit the child for harder things. The teacher who insists on hard work is the one who is respected. An aim of education is to prepare boy and girl to make a living. It is to give the pupil the mental power to think clearly. It should look toward the physical health of the children. It should train character but the teacher must not assume all the responsibility for the morals of the child." Mr. Corson has the faculty of holding the interest of his audience throughout and his talk was an entertaining and instructive one, marked by broad sense and sympathy.

Mr. Brumbaugh's Remarks.

Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, of the department of pedagogy of the University of Pennsylvania, was then introduced by Supt. Putnam and received a fine welcome from his many friends among the teachers of Bradford county. He made a strong address on the question "The Control of the Schools." He said that a large part of the energy of the teacher had to be expended in securing control of the pupil before an effort could be made to impart knowledge. The control of the child is a part of his education. The authority to govern the child comes from the state.

In brief the law of the state is that the control of the child belongs to the teachers from the time the child enters the school ground in the morning until he enters his home in the evening. The child is protected from the teacher in four particulars, that is the teacher may be removed for four reasons—cruelty, negligence, incompetency and immorality. Mr. Brumbaugh advised the teachers not to give up a school no matter how it is. He also advised the teacher not to punish in haste, anger or caprice. Mr. Brumbaugh is one of the most magnetic speakers that ever appears in the institutes here and always meets with hearty applause as he did yesterday afternoon.

Interspersing the talks by the lecturers were songs led by Mr. Yetter and Miss Willis gave another recitation which was well received.

SECOND DAY'S DOINGS.

Routine of Business Continued—Dr. Brumbaugh Finished His Talks.

Tuesday's sessions of the teachers' institute were marked by cool, comfortable weather, excellent singing and a number of interesting talks by Dr. Brumbaugh, ex-Superintendent Corson and Professor Albert and Miss Willis. There was a large attendance in the afternoon, the gallery being filled in addition to the auditorium.

The Morning Session.

The morning session opened with devotional exercises conducted by Dr. Brumbaugh and singing led by Mr. Yetter. Miss Alice Betts and Miss Frederick Quinlan, both of Towanda, are the institute accompanists and a fine Packard piano from the Passage Music House is used.

Miss Willis had the first place on the program. She spoke of the interpretation of the masterpieces and lesser selections used in elocution. She mentioned the things that should be looked for in their study, the soul power, that which is back of the mere words. Miss Willis illustrated her thought by reciting Tennyson's "Break, Break, Break," and Byron King's "The Clover Meadow," also "The Order for a Picture" analyzing the surroundings in which the action is set and which is not conveyed by the words themselves except by suggestion.

Professor Albert gave an interesting talk on the teaching of geography, a subject which was defined as the study of the earth as the home of man. He advocated studying one thing thoroughly and illustrated how by doing this a hundred small things in geography could be omitted without serious loss. In teaching this subject it is well to have the pupil investigate for himself local examples such as mills, factories, etc., their output and raw products used and compare with the figures given of the same industries mentioned in the geography lessons.

Dr. Corson spoke entertainly on "Suggestions in Teaching Arithmetic." Some of the extreme views on the subject are that it is an all important subject and again that it needn't be taught until the pupil is 14 years of age; another is the extreme of teaching it all in the abstract or else all in the concrete; another is all analysis and again no analysis. Dr. Corson said that the subject had great value in training the mind and that with sane methods of the use of the concrete and analysis it was a subject that should be given much attention. He mentioned the Kansas City method of using measures rules, etc., as long as it was necessary for the pupil and then dropping them as soon as possible.

Dr. Brumbaugh's talk on the "Teaching of Literature" was followed with great interest. He spoke of the two great classes of literature, romanticism and classicism, and showed the lines of division in the great family of authors between two classes. Romanticism is beauty to which is added variety while classicism is beauty plus order. He spoke

GORDON NOMINATED.

Declared Choice of Republican Party for Prothonotary.

A GOOD SIZED CONVENTION.

Republicans Advocate Supporting the Straight Ticket in Both State and County—Members of the Committees and the Speakers.

The Republican county convention, convened for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for prothonotary to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Frank Pike of Sayre, was held Thursday afternoon in court room No. 1 at the court house. There was a good attendance considering the fact that there was so little business to transact. County Chairman J. Roy Lilley called the convention to order at 1:45. Mr. Lilley took occasion to speak of two matters that had arisen in state and county poitics. The first was the attempt to defeat the Republican nominee for state treasurer, J. Lee Plummer of Blair county, on the ground of alleged bad conditions in the political conditions of Philadelphia. Mr. Lilley said that there was no reason for interjecting the affairs of Philadephia into the state treasury election and that Plummer was a legislator whose record was above approach. He said that his opponent, Mr. Berry of Chester county, had been a life long Democrat and had supported free trade and free silver. He urged all Republicans to vote for Plummer.

WILLIS G. GORDON.
Republican Nominee for the Office of Prothonotary.

He also spoke of the county commissioner situation in Bradford county where one of the men who had been a candidate at the caucus and was defeated was now running as an Independent Republican. Mr. Lilley said that the caucus of June last was fair and that the only place where any irregularity could be alleged was in Springfield township. Mr. Lilley said that in that township he did not believe there was anything done but what was honest. He said that there was more than a question of who should be county commissioner involved in this matter. It was a question of whether the Republican county rules shall be abided by after a candidate has been defeated. He advocated voting the straight Republican ticket in both county and state.

Mr. Kuykendall Chairman.

C. C. Yocum, Esq., of Sayre nominated Benjamin Kuykendall, Jr., of Towanda for chairman of the convention and he was unanimously chosen. Mr. Kuykendall made a brief speech in thanking the convention for the honor conferred. He referred in a feeling manner to the late Frank Pike of Sayre and spoke in eulogistic terms of the nomination of Willis G. Gordon of Towanda as Mr. Pike's successor on the ticket. He said that all that was necessary this fall was for the voter to go to the polls on the "Ides of November" and use good horse sense and that the election of the regularly nominated candidates was assured. The roll call of delegates by Secretary William J. McCabe showed the attendance of 86 and two substitutions made this 88. Claude A. Thompson of Towanda township moved that the chair be authorized to appoint two secretaries and George Sweet of Wilmot and G. N. Bird of Smithfield were named.

Morris Shepard moved that a committee of three be appointed to tabulate returns and he with S. H. Davis of LeRaysville and John Fellows of LeRay were chosen. A committee of seven on resolutions was appointed as follows: L. T. Hoyt of Athens, H. D. Luther of Burlington, H. B. Drake of Canton, M. M. Corson of New Albany, H. M. Prince of North Towanda, N. V. Weller of Athens and J. W. Tuttle of Wysox.

District Attorney Charles E. Mills of Athens made a short speech in advocating that the Republican party stand a unit and vote the straight ticket. He then offered the following resolution upon the death of Frank Pike:

Be it resolved by the Republican party of Bradford County in convention assembled:

That by the death of Frank Pike, Republican nominee for the office of Prothonotary of Bradford County, our party and the people of this county have suffered a loss that is irreparable.

He was a noble example of true American manhood, a leader of men, of high moral character, was just and honorable in his dealings and was loved, honored and respected by all, irrespective of faction or party.

We hereby express our appreciation of his worth as a man, as a citizen and as a leader of our party and our profound sorrow for his untimely death.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be engrossed and sent to the family of the deceased.

This resolution was adopted by a rising vote and formed an incident in the convention that touched the hearts of the countless friends of the deceased.

T. S. Hickok of Canton township offered a resolution endorsing the candidacy of James H. Gernert, Esq., formerly of this county, for United States district attorney of Indian territory. Mr. Gernert is now located at that place and Mr. Hickok said that he was a man who had all the ability and character necessary for the office. The resolution which follows was adopted.

Whereas, James H. Gernert, Esq., of Atoka, Indian Territory, who was born in Columbia township, this county, is a candidate for the office of United States District Attorney for said Territory.

And whereas, he has by his honesty, integrity and ability reflected great credit upon the place of his nativity.

Therefore be it Resolved, that we respectfully request our United States Senators, Hon. Boies Penrose and Hon. Philander C. Knox, and the Hon. Mial E. Lilley, Congressman from this District, to use all honorable means to secure his appointment.

Mr. Gordon the Nominee.

The report of the committee on tabulating the returns was then made by Morris Shepard, who stated that all the votes cast at the primaries, 940, were for Willis G. Gordon of Towanda. Chairman Kuykendall then declared Mr. Gordon the nominee of the party amid enthusiastic applause.

Hon. L. T. Hoyt in making the report of the committee on resolutions said that the convention in June had passed resolutions endorsing the Republican administration in state and nation and at this time the committee offered only a brief resolution as follows:

The Republican party of Bradford county being called in special convention on the eve of election do hereby resolve: That this is a good year to vote the straight ticket.

This resolution went through with a hurrah. John H. Brown of Canton and L. T. Hoyt made brief remarks and W. G. Gordon was called for but did not make any speech. The convention adjourned at 2:30 after a session of but three-quarters of an hour.

Case of Must.

It is no use talking about whether you believe in vaccination or not. The law requires that if your children attend any school they shall be vaccinated. If the teachers neglects to have the matter attended to she is liable to serious punishment. If you oppose the vaccination of your children, you are merely making trouble for the teachers. There is a way to test the constitutionality of the law, but scolding the teacher, the school board or the doctor will do no good.—Dushore Review.

Burglars at Troy.

During the small hours of last Saturday night or Sunday morning the residences of James Lamkin and the Misses Bowen in Canton street at Troy were entered and the lower rooms ransacked for money. The thief or thieves did not make much of a haul. From the Lamkin home but forty-five cents was taken; from the Bowen house about five dollars. Entrance in both cases was effected by raising a window.

Taken to Danville Asylum.

Spaulding Horton of Hornbrook, a man about 50 years of age, was taken to the State hospital at Danville last week, violently insane. Horton imagined himself to be very wealthy and at times insists he weighs hundreds of tons. The unfortunate man was at first taken to Burlington, but the nature of his case and the lack of room there prompted the commissioners to take him to Danville.

Business Men's Election Adjourned.

The annual meeting of the Towanda Business Men's association was adjourned Monday evening to next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, at which time a representative attendance is desired to vote for officers. The institute lecture last evening took the attention of many members and made the attendance light.

Dead in Bed.

George Overfield, a Meshoppen township farmer, was found dead in bed Sept. 30. He was well as usual upon retiring, and had been at work digging potatoes all the previous day. The deceased was nearly eighty-five years of age, and leaves a wife, one son and two daughters. The funeral was held on Tuesday.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

Perry Wheeler of Wyalusing Killed Wife and Himself.

WORK OF DEMENTED MAN.

Wheeler Apparently Lay in Wait For His Wife all Night—Shot Her With a Revolver and Then Turned Weapon Himself—Probably Demented.

Perry Wheler, a man about 50 years of age, Monday morning between 6:30 and 7 o'clock, at the A. B. Smith farm on Vaughn Hill in Wyalusing township, shot his wife through the head with a revolver and then turned the weapon against his own head, inflicting a wound that proved fatal within a few minutes.

Wheeler had been acting queerly for several months, and it is the belief of those acquainted with him that he was mentally unbalanced. He lived for a considerable time in Oklahoma, returning to this county with his family last Spring. He rented of A. B. Smith of South Towanda, the John Vaughn farm on Vaughn Hill. Some weeks ago he declared his intention of leaving his family and taking all his property. He did drive away and sell a team of horses, one of which it was alleged belonged to his son. An attempt was made to get the horse back, and about that time he appeared at the farm and made an attack on his wife with a razor, threatening to kill her. He disappeared and it was believed he had returned to Oklahoma.

The Wheelers had three or four children living at home, and from them the story of the tragedy was learned. Some of the children were in the barn milking when they heard a shot and their mother's scream for help. They ran out in time to see their father turn the revolver against his own head and send a shot into his brain. From appearances Wheeler had come to the farm in the night and had lain in the ice house, which is across the road and to one side of the house. Mrs. Wheeler had come to the carriage barn, near the ice house, when her husband rushed out and placing the revolver against her neck fired the bullet ranging upward into her head.

HOYT DID HIS BEST.

He Couldn't Convict Alleged Grafter But Saddled the Costs on Him.

The Potter County Enterprise publishes in this week's issue a likeness of Hon. L. T. Hoyt, who was appointed to prosecute Commissioner Sunderlain for malfeasance in office. The defendant was acquitted but must pay the costs, says the Athens News. In commenting on the trial the Enterprise says:

Probably the strongest feature of the Commonwealth's case, was the scathing and shrewd analysis of the testimony by Attorney Hoyt, who was followed by Mr. Scarlett with an able and convincing reply. Mr. Hoyt is certainly entitled to great credit for making the most possible of the Commonwealth's case. He, with assistance of Mr. Devail, got everything that could possibly be of benefit to the prosecution, to the ears of the jury. His address, doubtless, had much to do with putting the costs on the defendant. He is also a pleasant gentleman and one of the leading Republican members of the Legislature. Certainly no mistake was made when he was selected to take the lead in the cases against the Commissioners."

ACCIDENT AT BERNICE.

Two Men Fell With a Trestle on Saturday—Severely Injured.

Last Saturday afternoon about 1 o'clock, as Robert Cranmer and Abram Gore were at work on a trestle at the Connell Anthracite company's breaker at Bernice, the timbers gave way and both men fell with the structure a distance of 30 feet. They were completely buried under the wreckage and dirt and it took some time to dig them out; their escape from death is wonderful. Mr. Gore was severely injured in the back and other parts of his body. He was taken to the Williamsport hospital.

Mr. Cranmer escaped with a bad gash on his head which required several stitches to close, and bruises, but was able to walk home. He is a son of E. J. Cranmer of Monroeton. Mr. Gore was a former resident of Towanda.

This Sounds Familiar.

A number of prominent Sayre women have had some more experience with the agent who represents a large city store and brings great bargains right to the door. This time it was a slick, insinuating female who had samples of "such lovely imported laces, and so cheap, too." The ladies ordered a good supply, which was delivered a few days later. One was seen not ten minutes after the agent had delivered the goods and collected the money, standing out on her front porch and crying out: "Where is that swindler; this lace is not good at all—it isn't like the sample."

GEORGE S. LITTLE FOUND DEAD IN PHILADELPHIA.

Passed Away in His Apartments at No. 1412 Arch Street.

George S. Little, formerly of Towanda, was found in his apartments at No. 1412 Arch street, Philadelphia, just before noon on Oct. 3. The house in which Mr. Little lived was the property of Dr. B. F. Owens who leases the adiacent residences. Not having seen Mr. Little for some time, Dr. Owens tried to open the doors to his suite of rooms which had been locked on the inside. He found Little's dead body lying across the bed and made an examination which, he says, showed that death resulted from heart diseases. It is supposed that Mr. Little had been dead for at least 24 hours and perhaps for two days.

Mr. Little had been living in that city for some time and recently purchased an interest in the American right to use a process for preparing printing inks so they would not run together, thus permitting the printing of two or more colors at one impression, by stopping the revolution of the disc on a platen press, or removing the vibrators from a cylinder press.

Mr. Gibson, his partner in the Day-Gibson Co., is an Australian, who has traveled all over the world organizing companies in every country to handle the process. The process possesses much merit, and has been experimented with in the job rooms of the Towanda Printing Co. with satisfactory results. Mr. Little's father, Stanley W. Little, Esq., of this place went to Philadelphia to bring the body here.

The body of George S. Little was brought to Towanda Friday on train No. 1, at 3 o'clock and interment was be made in Oak Hill cemetery direct from the train.

Rev. Heermans' Engagements.

The new state chairman of the Prohibition party, Daniel B. McCalmont, Esq., has engaged Rev. W. S. H. Heermans of Towanda to present the great issue throughout the state. He will preach at Rome Wednesday evening, Oct. 11, Orwell Thursday evening, Oct. 12, LeRaysville Friday evening, Oct. 13 and will preach at Athens Oct. 15 in the morning in the Baptist church and in the evening in the Methodist Episcopal church at a union service. Oct. 17 he will begin at New Milford an eleven days' engagement in Susquehanna county.

Fire at Wyalusing.

The farm barn of John Coyle of Wyalusing was destroyed by fire on Saturday night about 9 o'clock. A quantity of hay, oats, tools, etc., were burned. The origin of the fire is not known but is supposed to have been incendiary. Just two weeks ago Mr. Coyle's house was burned in the night time.

To Issue School Bonds.

The Sayre Borough school board has filed a petition in court to be allowed to increase the indebtedness of said school district to the extent of $16,000, for which bonds will be issued, and to levy a 2 mill tax for the same.

Many a man will feed his family well, also his horses, cattle and hogs, who will deliberately and wantonly starve his land.

The New York butchers are going to fight the beef trust and hereafter kill their own meats. They have organized a strong company for this purpose.

Belated frosts all through the country are giving an exceptionally fine opportunity to secure all crops in good shape, the corn crop especially maturing naturally, insuring a fine quality of corn.

Two new artesian wells have recently been bored in South Dakota which give a pressure of 267 pounds to the square inch at the mouth of the pipe. These wells are veritable water powers without the bother of a dam.

The dairy cow foraging for a living in a December stalk field is every way a cow out of place. Instead she should be in a warm barn and be fed with all the nutritious and succulent food she will eat. It is simply impossible to run a profitable dairy out of doors during cold weather.

No new agricultural implement is becoming more popular or doing more good than the manure spreader. The best of results follow its use, and the factories are working overtime to turn them out. It has about come to this—that the style of a man's farming can be determined by the fact whether he owns and uses a manure spreader.

The average farm should be so managed that the poultry income would be at least $250 per annum. No branch of farm work is more neglected than this, and none would pay bigger returns for more attention. The average hen is permitted as a scavenger, when she should be cared for as a money maker.

Say, it's a great privilege when you go to rest after the day's labor to feel that you don't owe any man a cent, and still a greater one to get up in the morning and, looking the old world in the face, feel that the day and your work belong to you alone. Just simple freedom from debt would be the highest type of happiness for lots of humanity.

The wild barley, a most pestiferous weed which is spreading all over the low pasture and meadow lands of the west, wants exactly the same conditions of soil and moisture that the redtop grass does, and there is no better way to get rid of this weed than to seed the land with redtop, which will soon run the wild barley out. Try this and see.

Man clings to the barbarian and the primitive with a great deal of tenacity, this evidenced by the fact that just as long as the fishing and hunting in any locality are good it is next to impossible to get him into line with modern progress. It is probably true that if all the possums, coons and fish of the southern states could be exterminated it would be much easier to get the colored brother on his financial feet.

It is almost certain that winter wheat could be grown quite a bit north of the present northern line of the winter wheat territory if some means could be easily adopted to retain the winter snowfall on the wheat. This could be done by planting corn six feet apart in rows, leaving the stalks out all winter and sowing the wheat in the well cultivated space between the rows. A field so treated would retain the snow all winter and perfectly protect the wheat. It is not the freezing which kills winter wheat, but the alternate thawing and freezing and drying out of the ground.

A western man is making quite a success of domesticating wild Canada geese. He now has over seventy and finds that they breed readily under domestic confinement, but are loath to lose the wild instinct which prompts them to migrate in the spring and fall, and so he has to keep their wings clipped. The Canada goose is one of the most graceful and beautiful of our wild game birds, the very embodiment of the artistic in wild life, and its domestication would prove a real benefit to the country. Its flesh has the genuine game flavor, and its call is the most musical of any of the goose family.

What is known as "dry farming," a new method of treating the soil of the arid sections so as to conserve what rainfall and moisture are available, is working wonders through a large section of the great American desert. Crops of winter wheat, averaging twenty-five bushels to the acre, have this year been grown in Wyoming, Colorado and other arid desert localities where it was generally supposed nothing could be raised without irrigation. Deep plowing to form a reservoir for the scant rainfall and continuous surface cultivation until the crop is well started are the secrets of success. Irrigation, drainage and dry farming combined are going to make productive nearly all the waste level lands of the entire country.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

We have referred several times in these notes to the new method of caring for the earth roads by smoothing and dragging them after every rain. This method has proved so successful and satisfactory this summer that it is coming into general use all over the west and northwest, at least where the expensive macadamizing of the public highways is at present barred because of lack of material wherewith to do it and the great cost attached. It is making a very conservative statement to say that where the dirt roads have been treated by this method they have been improved 100 per cent. They are smooth, well crowned in the center and carry a cemented crust of puddled earth which is well nigh impervious to the effect of any ordinary wet weather. There are no depressions to serve as the foundation for future mudholes, and all who travel the highways so treated are loud in their praise of this method of caring for them. Then the cost is so very trifling that no road money can be so usefully and economically expended as by having all dirt roads dragged at the proper time, the cost at the outside for the country highway not exceeding the sum of $3 for the season when the frost is out of the ground for each mile so treated. The sensible thing to now do is for the township trustees to adopt this plan as a basic method of caring for the roads and for them, in the spring to let contracts to have all the roads so treated. What has been done this year has been largely done by public spirited farmers, who have cared for a piece of road by this plan in addition to paying their road taxes. Next year the work should be done at public expense.

One of the great land movements of the near future is to be in connection with the settlement of the lands to be brought under irrigation by the great reclamation schemes undertaken by the general government. Some of the most desirable and productive agricultural sections of the whole country are to develop in connection with these schemes.

The average income aside from his living of the man who owns an eighty acre farm through the prairie sections of the west is not far, one year with another, from $800. We know of a German who has but ten acres of land, and he makes over $1,000 a year from it. One is the careless, improvident type of farming so common all over the country, while the other is a high type of intensive agriculture.

We are asked when a man, a farmer, should quit work—that is, how old he must be to justify his letting go. That depends. In a way, a man who has been used to hard work all his life should for his health's sake never quit entirely so long as his strength lasts, but after he is sixty we think that he has earned the right to do only just so much hard work as he feels like doing and of just that kind which he really likes to do. This should be the old man's privilege.

We are often asked where is the best place to keep seed corn after it has been selected and gathered. In a general way, it may be said any place is good where the frost will not touch it during the winter. This may be down in a dry cellar—no better place than this—or it may be in an attic or unused chamber of the house. The barn, the cornerib and over the grain bins are each bad places for it. Anyway, it needs picking and drying before it is frozen, or, no matter how good care you may take of it during the winter, you will be simply caring for a corpse.

We are asked whether it pays a farmer to save his own garden seeds. We think not, as a general thing. A few sorts, such as pumpkin, squash, melon, cucumber, beans and peas, it is well to save, but for the rest they can be more cheaply obtained from some reliable seed house. He should not fail to save his own seed corn, however, and the saving of it is one of the most important duties which the fall brings. It sometimes happens that grandpa or grandma will take lots of pleasure and much pains to save a supply of all garden seeds, which they should be by all means allowed to do.

A friend writes us inquiring whether the fall is a good time to set out our common forest trees. If the ground is well soaked, as it is generally this fall, there is no better time to set these trees than just as soon as they shed their leaves. If the ground is very dry it is better to wait until spring. Whenever set, however, the top of the tree should be cut back to correspond with the reduced root system. Forest trees should be of medium size for transplanting, not over three inches through, as then they will be more likely to live and will make better trees than if larger ones are selected for planting. We have had the best success in cutting the top down to a bare pole.

The benefits associated with the old fashioned method of stacking the small grain as soon as it was dry after cutting are so great that the common way of thrashing from the shock is simply wasteful in comparison. When stacked the grain is of better quality, as the sweat which it goes through in the stack is highly beneficial to it, insuring a better color and greater weight. Then the straw is of much greater feeding value, coming out nice and bright in the late fall for winter feeding. But greater than either of these reasons is the chance which stacking gives for a man to clear his fields in early August and get his plowing done early, when plowing kills all the weeds and puts the soil into the best condition for a succeeding crop. It would be a good thing, in the long run, if no machine had ever been invented which would thrash over 400 bushels of grain in a day. Then men would all stack their grain and be gainers in the long run.

ABOUT A PIE.

We had occasion to buy a pie—a pumpkin pie—recently. We obtained it at a caffetaire which the best cooks of the city—ladies—were supposed to supply, and we took the pie without question upon the strength of the reputation of the institution. Dear me, how we got fooled! That pie was conceived in ignorance and brought forth in incompetence—a culinary aggregation of flour, lard, uncooked pumpkin and sugar, with a crust like a hard pine shingle and a barbarian slop for a filling which the hogs would shun. This thing cost 20 cents, a good stiff price for a first class pie. It needed a hammer and a cold chisel to quarter it. And this was supposed to be the product of up to date twentieth century cooking! What was the woman thinking of when she concocted this abomination? Wonder who she was and what sort of husband she cooks for. Why has he not sued for a divorce before this, or is she killing him by inches, he fooled in the belief that she is a good cook, after all? Women are witched today on art, music, clubs and public affairs when one-half of them need nothing so bad as to learn the simple A B C of good cooking and home making. Young man, look up the cooking pedigree of the girl you are thinking of marrying, for if you marry a girl with a pretty face and who makes pies like the one we bought you have struck a proposition which will worry you as long as you live, if she doesn't kill you off pretty young.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE MONEY.

The crop production of this year is going to result in the accumulation of a vast amount of new wealth, especially for the great west and the northwest and southwest sections of the country. It is of interest to speculate what use will be made of this new wealth, the larger part of which will be in the hands of the farmers of the country. Interest rates are already low, and it looks as though they might be still lower. We think that one result will be an active and upward movement in farm land, the source of this newly created wealth. We do not look to see so much readiness to put money into wildcat schemes as there has been and more of a tendency to buy good acres at home rather than wild acres on some distant frontier. Some of the year's surplus can well be devoted, first, to the payment of debts, and, second, to the improvement of the farm home and surroundings. Every owner of a good farm should have a modern home in which to live and have well bred stock and a good place to keep them. The best there is is none too good for the up to date farmer.

BACK YARDS.

We were at a certain home in a country town not long since which really and truly had no back yard. Most homes both in city and country have back yards, a part of the premises devoted to the accumulation of rubbish, debris and dirt of modern living—old boards, utensils, ash piles, wood yard, often too fragrant with slop odors, a fitting environment for a back kitchen door, a condition which many people think is an inevitable adjunct of modern living. At the place referred to there was none of these things, for the back yard was just as neat and attractive as the front yard. Rubbish was never allowed to accumulate, ashes were put on to the garden as fertilizer when emptied, pretty creepers and vines covered the back fences and outbuildings, and of course there was no dirty, ill favored back shanty attachment to the home. There is a great chance for missionary work in the line of back yard reform and improvement, for the condition of a man's back yard very fairly indicates the grade of refinement of the home in which he lives.

A good many men are not as smart as a fox squirrel, for they will not make any provision during the summer for the winter, when they can't work, while every last squirrel will.

October is the very best month of the whole year in which to take an outing. Then the fish bite well, the mosquitoes are disappearing, the weather is more enjoyable and decent, the landscape scenery at the height of its beauty.

An indictment in the federal court is one thing that seems to feaze the beef trust managers. One of them has pleaded guilty for the reason, as he puts it, that to have such indictment hanging over him would soon kill him. It is a good thing that there is something which will touch these fellows.

With a prospective market for good beef animals at $5 and with corn worth 35 cents a bushel the feeding steers should be bought close to $3.25 to insure a profitable job of feeding. Some men will pay 4 cents for feeders and sell beef for $4.50, and when they do their hired men have made more money than they have.

We know of one forty acre field of corn tiled out last year upon which is growing a crop of corn good for seventy bushels an acre, or a surplus above the average crop of other farms in the community sufficient to pay at 35 cents a bushel the entire cost of reclaiming the land.

Recalling a Mailed Letter.

After a letter is addressed and stamped and put into the mail box has the postmaster any right to give it back to the sender if sender wishes to recall it?

It is not only the right, but the duty, of the postmaster to give back a letter already mailed which the sender wishes to recall. He is even authorized in certain cases to stop the delivery of a letter which has already started for its destination by a telegram to the postmaster at that place. But he must be very certain that the person who wishes to recall a letter in either case is the one who wrote it, and the latter must bear any expense that arises from telegraphing, etc.—St. Louis Republic.

Mrs. Alice Salisbury will entertain the M. E. Ladies' Aid society next Wednesday, Oct. 18, for dinner, at her home, Sunnyside Farm, near Leona.

All were most happily surprised on Sunday morning to see Rev. W. H. S. Loller in the pulpit. Mr. Loller has been with this charge for the past three years and has made a host of friends but no enemies. All are pleased to have him and family here for another year and we are sure there will continue to be perfect harmony btween pastor and people. Sunday morning he preached one of his most interesting and helpful sermons.

The W. C. T. U. meeting at Mrs. Mary Gneenough's last Friday was well attended. Twelve members and several visitors were present. Two new names were added to the list. After the usual routine of business and a report of the county convention, Mrs. Mary Greenough, superintendent of the Mothers' meeting, took charge. She read from the first to the sixteenth verses of the first chapter of Matthew. Mrs. F. E. Park read a reference. Mrs. Greenough's subject was "Purity." Mrs. Ella Roberts then read a paper. Theodre Roosevelt was the author. A paper was read by Mrs. Loller on the "Duty of Motherhood." Solo by Mrs. Roberts. Paper, "The Greater Need," by Mrs. Lettie Fields. Mrs. Greenough gave a few "Donts" to mothers. Mrs. A. F. Vanhorn presided at the organ for the singing. It was a very interesting meeting and we are sure it was helpful to all mothers, and we are sorry that every mother in this town was not there to be instructed and helped.

Frightful Suffering Relieved

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of indigested food, C. G. Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at Turner's Drug Store, guaranteed.

Twenty-four head of cattle from the Castle Grove herd, at Danville, subjected to the tuberculin test and found infected, were shipped to Philadelphia where they will be killed.

A fire started the other morning in the Westfield Free Press office, but was checked quickly mainly through the courageous efforts of the "devil," who seized the flaming waste box and threw it out of the building.

P. J. Brennan Has Appendicitis.

Patrick J. Brennan, proprietor of Brennan's confectionery store on South Main street, was Tuesday morning taken to Mercy hospital at Wilkesbarre, suffering with appendicitis. He was accompanied by his wife and his mother, Mrs. James Brennan. Mr. Brennan was first taken ill on Saturday night, but Monday morning was better and returned to work. Monday evening he was again seized with severe pains and it was determined to enter the hospital for an operation.

Reslutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of the Band of Lady Workers of Gillett, resolutions of respect to the memory of Mrs. Dency Sample were adopted. The committee on resolutions were Mrs. Dr. Kiersted, Mrs. Gertie Turk and Mrs. Irene Pitt.

At a regular meeting of Saxton Post, No. 65, G. A. R., of Granville Centre, resolutions in memory of Comrade Ezra Bailey were adopted. The committee in charge were P. R. Warren, S. Putnam and Franklin Saxton.

Bounty Law Ineffective.

The Superior Court has decided that the law passed by the legislature providing for the destruction of wild cats, foxes and minks in Pennsylvania, and offering bounties for the same, is ineffective. The court holds that the title of the bill is defective and that there is nothing in the act to show who would pay the bounties. The case came before the court from Sullivan county and was a test one. The Sullivan county court is reversed by the decision.

Didn't Stay Caught.

P. Kipp was arrested Monday afternoon by Special Officer Watson for drunkenness. The weather was hot and P. begged not to be locked up in the cells; so Watson kindly allowed him to roam in the corridor. Kipp didn't appreciate the kindness however, for in the evening he burst open the door leading from the cell room to the council chamber and so won his way easily to the street. He is yet an absentee.

of the old lyric and dramatic authors and showed the change from the subjective writing in the early periods of English literature to the objective writers of the later periods, the change from writing entirely about man to writing about nature.

In the Afternoon.

Some time was spent in the opening in singing, the best yet during the institute. The volume was good and the parts were taken in a well balanced manner. Miss Quinlan played. Superintendent Putnam made a request that all teachers refrain from attending any public dance during institute week. He said that the institute was serious business and that the teachers should go to their boarding places after the evening lecture was over. He said that dancing and card playing might be good forms of recreation but that the teachers needed rest.

Professor Albert was introduced to give a talk on "Working Outline in Geography" but prefaced this with remarks following out Mr. Putnam. He said that dancing and card playing were not recreation but were a form of damnation. Some in the audience applauded this and a few hisses came from the gallery. Mr. Albert said if they didn't like what he said they could go out.

He then discussed his topic. He gave as his outline: Relative and absolute location, surface, climate, soil, and products. Much of the intellectual, physical and moral life of persons depends on their geography, or the place in which they live.

Miss Willis followed with a recitation, "Mice at Play." This was an extremely well rendered bit of elocutionary work in which the different characters were cleverly interpreted and the humor brought out with irresistible force. She had to respond with another selection as an encore.

Mr. Corson gave an interesting talk on "School Sentiment." He said the school did not need rules of order and laws as much as a sentiment standing for the best things. The teacher in his rules and in his punishment must come close to meeting the approval of the scholars. The teacher that has honesty of purpose will prove more successful in the end than the one who strives to win everything by popularity.

After singing, Dr. Brumbaugh gave his last talk, a three quarters of an hour address upon a highly entertaining subject "Pennsyvania History," a subject which he said was neglected by the public school teacher and one in which there was a wealth of material and a world of honor. He paid a tribute to William Penn and discussed the work of the Quaker, the Pennsylvania German and the Scotch-Irishman. The Pennsylvania German gave to the state its agriculture, its textile arts, its knowledge of medicine. He laid stress upon the fact that it was the vote of this state which decided the fate of the declaration of independence. Mr. Brumbaugh said that this was a state to be proud of and that its history should be taught in the schools all over the commonwealth. At the close of the speech Mr. Brumbaugh was given the Chautauqua salute led by Mr. Yetter.

WEDNESDAY FORENOON.

Vaccination Law Discussed—Superintendent Putnam's Advice.

The session of yesterday morning opened with singing, and devotional exercises conducted by Professor Albert. Miss Willis gave an interesting talk on "Reading," from the mechanical or technical side. President Eliot says that the truest test of education is the ability to pronounce words correctly and to use fluent language. The practice of the consonants especially gives perfect enunciation and these consonant sounds must be connected with something that the child is familiar with. Then exercise in combinatons of consonants and then in their alliteration. Endeavor to give the child a sweet and distinct voice.

Professor Albert talked on "School Discipline." In this he mentioned several all important accompaniments. Intelligence is needed in the seating of pupils. The teacher must have an all abiding self control. He also needs a keen sympathy which will mean his interest in the poorest, lowest scholar as well as the pretty bright pupil. Mr. Albert's remarks were heartily applauded.

Dr. Conson gave another interesting talk on "Teaching Arithmetic." The faculties which are brought into play in the study of the subject are memory, reason, imagination, accuracy, neatness and rapidity. Mr. Corson believes thoroughly in having the children memorize certain things. Education is not all knowing where things can be found. Then comes reason, another step and most importan of all accuracy. The other things follow.

The Vaccination Law.

Supt. Putnam then took up the question of the law compelling school children to be vaccinated before their admission to the public schools. He said that the teacher had no alternative but to obey this law and he advised that they do it. The law gave no "ifs" or "buts." It said that all children must have a certificate showing successful vaccination and that what school directors or any one else said did not make and difference. Deputy State Superintendent Henry Houck was then introduced and made a few happy remarks to the teachers who are all firm friends of the well known educator. The morning session closed with a charming selection by Miss Willis, a chapter from "Lovey Mary."

The Evening Lectures.

The first lecture in the institute course was given Monday night by Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh of Philadelphia. Dr. Brumbaugh was appointed the first commissioner of education in Porto Rico by President McKinley and his talk was upon what he saw and did there during the two years that he served the United States government as commissioner. Military government ceased and civil government began in the island June 1, 1900. Mr. Brumbaugh found a beautiful island with a population of 1,000,000 persons of whom 28 per cent. only were black. Eighty-eight per cent. of the population was illiterate. There were no school houses, all they had being in rented buildings.

On this foundation a system of public education was inaugurated and in two years time there were 36,000 children in the schools with 936 teachers. Fifty new school houses were erected with a normal school that equipped 400 persons as teachers. One hundred and twenty-five teachers were taken from this country and every child was taught the English language. Dr. Brumbaugh is a fascinating speaker and his talk was not only authoritative but keenly interesting.

The lecturer of Tuesday was Dr. W. Quay Rosselle of Williamsport. His suggestive subject was "The University of Adversity." Dr. Roselle made a great hit with his lecture which is a combination of beautiful word painting, eloquence, wisdom, humor, pathos with an added spice of a homely wit that sets everybody laughing. It was a clever lecture and full of things to be cherished in memory.

Handsome Decorations.

The opera house never was decorated more tastefully or to better effect than for the week's institute. The national colors have been used throughout, two large flags being draped at the back of the stage, and bunting used on the boxes and balcony and along the walls. Handsome reed furniture is on the stage, and at the back is displayed a large picture of Emanuel Guyer, the first county superintendent of schoos of this county, whose term of office was from 1854 to 1857. The decorations are the work of E. Bird Pierce, and reflect great credit on his skill in that line.

The Enrollment.

Clerk Mitten reports an enrollment of 440 Monday. Of these 427 are teachers and the others citizens not engaged in teaching. There are 460 teachers in the county.

All but 22 of the 457 teachers of the county are now enrolled at the institute.

Officers and Committees.

The officers of the institute are: President. Superintendent Putnam; vice-presidents, J. H. Humphries, I. F. Stetler, Geo. A. Saxton, and C. P. McCord; secretary, Miss Helen M. Rickey; clerk, Fred R. Mitten; ushers, R. B. Allen, G. L. Retan, Paul L. Haverly, F. W. Gorham. Committee on discussions and resolutions: W. M. Dennison, J. H. Hurst, D. H. Aird, Miss Ada Fancher, Miss Nettie Lyon, Miss Nettie Randall. Queries: J. A. Chrestensen, G. E. Rogers, C. G. Campbell, Miss Ella Dibble, Miss Mollie Howell. Auditing: R. B. Allen, Ezra Calkins, S. M. Huston, Katherine Owen, Mary Hoag. Course of Reading for Teachers: I. F. Stetler, F. W. Gorham, J. H. Humphries.

JUVENILE COURT SUSTAINED.

Supreme Court Renders Decision on Its Constitutionality.

A decision of importance relating to the constitutionality of the act authorizing the juvenile court was handed down this week by Justice Brown, of the State Supreme court.

The decision is on an appeal of the case of Frank Fisher, committed to the House of Refuge in Philadelphia for six months in a proceeding conducted by the Philadelphia quarter sessions court. The Supreme court stamps the Juvenile court act as constitutional. The constitutionality of the act of April 23, 1903, was the sole question before the court in this case.

Justice Brown says in his opinion that no one from reading the title can possibly misunderstand the purpose of the act. It is a single one to define what powers the state, as the general guardian of all of its children, commits to the several courts of quarter sessions in exercising special guardianship over children under the age of 16 years needing the substitution of its guardianship for that of parents or others.

"That minors may be classified for their best interests and the public welfare," the opinion reads, "has never been questioned in the legislation relating to them. Such classification is not prohibited by the Constitution and what has not been therein prohibited the legislature may enact."

Chase Family Reunion.

The first annual Chase reunion was held Sept. 28, 1905, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crayton Cease at Thompson Hill. A company of 60 were in attendance and partook of the bountiful supply with which the tables were loaded. The weather was fine and all enjoyed the day visiting with relatives, some of whom they had not seen in years, forming new acquaintances and in listening to the music. It was decided to meet next year at David Chase's the last Thursday in September.

The following officers were elected: David Chase, president; Daniel Chase, historian; Mrs. Minnie Cease, secretary.

NOTES OF GRANGES.

COMMENT ON MANY THINGS.

Open Hand Degree Team at the Fair The Fair a Poor Place for Speechmaking—Study Civic Improvement —From the State Master.

(Communications to this column should be addressed to A. T. Lilley, LeRoy, Pa.)

Mrs. Angeline Stone, aged 61 years, died on Oct. 3. She was a member of Open Hand grange, and the fifty-fifth that has passed away since the organization of this grange in 1874. She was the widow of the late Alpha Stone and leaves two brothers, Noah and Seth Loomis.

On Sunday, Oct. 1, Ezra Bailey, aged 73, a member of Granville Centre grange passed away. He was a faithful Patron, always attentive to the interests of the grange, doing what he could to advance the cause of agriculture.

We were well pleased with the exhibit of Wysauking grange at the county fair. It showed that the grange at Wysox is wide awake in the production of farm crops.

The members of Standing Stone grange were out in full force at the fair on Grange Day. They report a steady increase of members and profitable meetings.

Open Hand grange degree team attended the fair to welcome State Master, W. F. Hill. The ten who composed this team when organized four years ago, were on hand, as they always have been when asked to perform a duty. T. M. Lilley of Powell took their picture at a beautiful flowery nook on the south side of Towanda Creek, when they were going to the fair. The members of the team enjoyed the trip very much.

Poor Place for Speachmaking.

The managers of the county fair proved very obliging and courteous, so much so that we were very sorry to see and hear the mistakes that led to so much feeling concerning the proper and common courtesy allowed the speakers. Mistakes will happen almost anywhere but they should be corrected whenever possible. Desire to see a horse race ought not to produce actions that are sure to cause ill feelings. The Patrons should have a more quiet place for speech making in order to gain listeners to the topics under discussion.

The remarks of State Master, W. F. Hill, at the fair, were full of interest and instruction and was pretty well listened too, but it was more than a slight that was accorded the State Master of New York. In the future a more retired place should be furnished speakers so that all may pass in harmony and each one be assured that he may return home feeling that it was good to be at the fair.

As we looked in upon Towanda valley grange at its last meeting the members were found busy making preparations for the November session of Pomona to be held at West Franklin. A full attendance is expected.

Beech Flats grange has prepared a very good program for the balance of the year. It would be of much interest to the grange and must do much good to the membership in Canton township.

The object lessons at the county museum are being increased along the lines of botany, in connection with the log house, and the geology of the county. The historical work is progressing finely, so that the membership of the Historical society already feel that their labors to secure the beneficial effects of a good museum and historical headquarters are being realized.

It is passing strange that it requires shows of questionable character to make a fair a financial success. Something of a more elevating character would be of more benefit to the rising generation.

Concerning Civic Neatness.

A good patron says: "Study the best shade trees and how to care for them. Work for a sentiment favorable to the preservation of the birds. Interest the members in the care of schoolhouse grounds, cemetery, the common and other public grounds. Wake up a zeal in attractive grounds and in a general spirit of civic neatness about the premises of members. Try to make your town more beautiful. Such work is closely allied to agriculture, using the word in its broader sense. Plenty of amusement for the young people is all right, but remmember that the grange has a serious side and do not overlook its educational work. If the members are not interested in cultivating broad fields, do what you can for the most successful cultivation of the roadside tree, the shrubbery about the village homes, the grass of the lawns. In this way you are carrying out grange principles."

State Master W. F. Hill writes: "Sometimes we think we are not factors in the acomplishment of the beneficial results; but we are units in the organization, and the subordinate granges united make it possible for the legislative committees to go to Congress and point to an organized sentiment of the farmers with reference to measures which touch our welfare vitally. We have attained a position of great influence, and along with it come great responsibilities. Let us be careful of the positions we take; let us not undertake measures of legislation from a narrow point of view. Let us be broad enough in our policy to recognize citizenship in other interests, and asume positions in these matters that are for the greatest good to the greatest number."

LEHIGH VALLEY COMPANY BUYS GREAT COXE MINES.

Director Confirms the Rumor, but Will Make No Detailed Statement.

The following dispatch is sent out from Philadelphia: A director of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co. was quoted in financial circles on Saturday as having admitted that control of Coxe Bros. and Co.'s business had been secured. The rumor has been repeatedly denied, and no confirmation was obtainable at either the Lehigh Valley or Coxe Bros. & Co.'s offices.

It was said that Alexander B. Coxe, who is also a director of the Lehigh Valley Co., was antagonistic to the negotations. What the monetary consideration was could not be learned. The Coxe plant is capitalized at about $3,000,000, and is one of the largest independent anthracite companies in the country. If the deal is perfected the Lehigh Valley company will get over 1,000,000 additional tonnage per year and have the benefit of the tonnage to tidewater. At Coxe Bros. & Co.'s offices the only statement obtainable was: "We are still selling coal and know nothing of the deal except by rumor."

Burke—Saxe.

A very pretty wedding occurred at St. Francis church, Wilmot, on Wednesday, Oct. 4, when Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Saxe, was united in marriage with John W. Burke, a prosperous and highly respected farmer of Wilmot. Olive Saxe, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Thomas Burns of West Virginia, was best man. After the marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. P. J. Mac, about 50 invited friends and relatives assembled at the home of the bride where an elegant wedding dinner was served. During the evening excellent music was furnished and a large number of young people spent the night in dancing. Those from a distance were David Crowley and sisters Margaret and Catherine from North Rome, F. McDonnaugh and D. Scanlin from Ricketts, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Coyle from Wyalusing, and Thomas Finen from Philadelphia.

There were many useful and beautiful presents, consisting of money, silverware, table linen, lamps, bed spreads, a handsome writing desk and clock and various other articles.

The bride is a graduate of the Dushore High school and has taught three successful terms of school in Bradford county. The happy couple have many friends who join in wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

Dr. Scott to Leave Colorado.

The Denver Republican of Oct. 3, has the following concerning a native of Towanda: "Dr. C. H. Scott and family of Breckenridge, are stopping in Towanda for a few days on their way to St. Mary's, Pa. The altitude has proved too great for Mrs. Scott's health and they will try the effect of a lower one. Dr. Scott came to Colorado in the early 80's and is well known throughout the state as a skillful surgeon and one of the most expert rifle shots in the west. Mrs. Scott enjoys the distinction of being the best lady rifle shot in America and one of the best known artists of Colorado."

Everett Is O. K.

To the Editors of The Reporter-Journal.

Permit me to make a correction to the items from Granville Centre in your paper of recent date. Mrs. Wm. Riggs is not from Seattle, Wash. We never resided in Seattle, and although Seattle is a fine hustling city, all the people in Washington are not residents of Seattle. Everett, 33 miles north of Seattle, is already keeping that city awake; is the terminus of the Great Northern Ry, and as one of her twenty thousand citizens, I protest at being credited to Seattle.

Yours truly,
W. H. Riggs,

GORDON FOR PROTHONOTARY.

At the special Republican county convention held on Thursday last Willis G. Gordon was placed in nomination and his name completes the ticket. He received all the votes that were cast, 940 in number, at the special primaries on the preceeding Tuesday. The nomination will please and satisfy the rank and file of the party throughout the county. Six years ago Mr. Gordon was a candidate for this office, and at the party caucuses he showed a following and strength that fully justified his candidacy and proved that he had many friends. Although defeated he was entirely loyal to the party and the ticket named received his hearty support. When death struck down the late Frank Pike of Sayre, the party nominee at the convention in June, the logic of the situation pointed to Mr. Gordon as his successor. Mr. Pike's death was no sooner known than Mr. Gordon was, in the public mind, the foremost candidate for the vacant place on the ticket. His unanimous nomination on Thursday last was a natural sequence of the existing political conditions and his election is a foregone conclusion.

Mr. Gordon is well qualified for the duties of the office. He is a business man by temperament and has had a long training in business life. He wil prove to be, we have no doubt, a most competent and obliging official and the whole ticket is strengthened by his nomination.

Six young Chinamen are among the pupils of the New Bedford, Mass., textile school, having been sent to this country to learn all about the making of cotton fabrics. The purpose in this procedure is to expedite China's industrial development. Not only will their Government expect them to develop their own talents to the best advantage, but their services will be required in imparting to others less favored than themselves a knowledge of modern methods of spinning and weaving cotton. Now the question arises, how long will it take the imitative Chinaman to build his own factories and compete with our manufactured goods. Well, if the worst comes to worst we will sell John our raw cotton and machinery, which may even things.

The people love a leader out of the wilderness. Witness Roosevelt, Folk and Weaver. Now the Republicans of New York have nominated Chas. E. Hughes, who has so successfully conducted the investigation of the state legislature into the insurance condition of a number of the greatestc ompanies in the United States having their headquarters in New York. Against Hughes will be McClellan nominated by the Tammy Democrats and Hearst, nominated by the municipal ownership party.

"David Harum," the novel written by the late Edward Noyes Westcott, netted the author's estate about $125,000, according to a statement made in Surrogate's court, when the final accounting of the executrix of the estate was filed. Mr. Wescott, who was a banker, died seven years ago and the estate has been held open to derive the benefits from the sale of the novel.

Perhaps someone who is slick at forecasting election results will rise in his seat and tell how many votes the Democrats will gain by having waited for the Republicans to complete their ticket before they had completed their own.

THE LAW OF TRESPASS.

So many inquiries have been made regarding the new trespass law that, for the benefit of farmers and hunters, it is timely to repeat the gist of the provisions of the act of 1905. It is unlawful for any person to trespass upon land posted as private property. They cannot enter upon the land of a farmer to hunt, fish, gather nuts or for any other purpose, if that land shall be posted according to the provisions of the law. That is plain enough so that he who runs or walks may read. Commenting on this an exchange says:

"But the farmer must have his land properly posted if he wishes to prevent trespassers from going upon his premises. There can be no wilful trespass unless the land forbidden to that act is properly posted. The law requires the property owner to post his trespass notices prominently and the notices must be printed. Prominently means conspicuously, and the notices must be so placed that the hunter may see them before he enters upon the land. A notice in writing obscurely posted so that the sportsman or nut picker cannot see it without difficulty is not recognized as fulfilling the law, and the land owner cannot recover damages from persons who ignore or fail to heed such notices.

"The penalty for a violation of the law of trespass by a hunter or any other person is a fine of not more than ten dollars, together with the costs of prosecution. In default of the payment of fine and costs the offender shall be committed to jail for one day for each dollar of fine imposed. Men and boys who have heretofore resorted to the woods and walked through the fields in the country, doing more or less damage to fences and sometimes endangering farm buildings, will do well to bear in mind the fact that they can no longer do this. This may bring disappointment to hunters and others, but it is the law, and many farmers in this county are determined to take this means of protecting their property."

NO TARIFF LEGISLATION.

The President, it is said, has expressed the opinion that there will be no tariff legislation during the coming session of Congress. In this view he is in accord with the bulk of the Republican leaders, only a corporal's guard of the Republicans of the Senate and House favor any tampering with the tariff in the coming Congress. This and the regulation of of railroad rates are the only questions on which there has been at any time a chance for Republican discord. On both, all sections of the party will be in line. The President, in the preparation of his message already under way, is consulting with the party leaders on these and all the large questions. They know where he stands and he knows what position they will take. A general council of the Republican chiefs of both houses will be held in Washington just before Congress meets early in December, and a program of legislation will then be marked out. The overwhelming majority which the Republicans have in each branch will be effective for a practical legislature this winter. Republican divergencies on any important issue might have an embarassing effect on the Congressional canvass of 1906 which will be opening about the time that the coming session will end. There is not the faintest liklihood however, of any trouble on this score.

PAYS TO BE DECENT.

Not meaning to infer that there are any tricky lawyers in this section, the remarks of Judge Delehanty of New York city concerning some attorneys there is interesting. A young attorney had received through the mail an answer of the defendants to a bill of complaint made by his client. The answer came within the required time limit. The young lawyer when he saw whom the letter was from refused to accept it on the ground that it had been wrongly addressed. A judgment was then taken by default on the theory that the defendants had not served their answer within the required time.

Judge Delehanty looked into the facts of the matter, granted a motion to open the default, imposing the costs of the motion on the smart attorney. "My only regret," he comments, "is that these terms cannot be made more onerous. In all my experience, I have never witnessed such a wanton disregard of the ethics and proprieties of the legal profession, nor such a lax observance of the rules, practice as is shown by the conceded acts of the attorney for the plaintiff. It may not be amiss to say, as a word of advice to young practioners, that it never pays in the long run to be tricky, or too technical in one's practice."

In his annual report to the State Commissioner of Prisons, Sheriff Worthing of Broome county, N. Y., shows that since the doing away of the stone yard the increase in prisoners liable to work in stone yard, registered at the local jail has been about sixteen per cent.

Senator Redfield Proctor is making a notable gift to the State of Vermont—a tuberculosis sanatorium (estimated to cost about $50,000) and a $100,000 endowment for its maintenance. The Senator has a consumptive son.

AN EVERY DAY SERMON.

"It is a very safe protective rule to live today as if you were going to marry a pure woman within a month. This rule you will find a safeguard for life. It is a good rule early to work to learn how to work hard. It is a good rule never to take four minutes to do what you can accomplish in three minutes, or to take four years to do what you can accomplish in three years. It is a good rule to live intensely. And it is a good rule to live today and every day like a man of honor."

Such was the advice given by President Charles W. Eliot in the Harvard Union on a recent evening.

"As an indespensible foundation for solid, durable satisfactions," he said, "a young man ought first to be a clean, wholesome, vigorous animal. That is the foundation for everything else.

"The second thing necessary is a strong mental grip a wholesome capacity for hard mental work. The great difference between the privileged class of educated men to which you belong and the great majority of other people is that the educated class lives by the exercise of mental, not physical, powers.

"The third thing necessary is a spotless reputation. This comes only by living with honor, by beginning to live so now. There are things an honorable man won't do, can't do. He will never wrong or degrade a woman. He will never oppress or cheat a person weaker or poorer. He is honest, sincere, candid, generous. It is not enough to be honest. An honorable man must be honest, not with money alone, but in judgments—judgments of women, men, history and the prospects of mankind. Evidence shows that honor comes, not in the favorable judgment of our elders, but of our contemporaries. This judgment is most important."

OUT DOOR TREATMENT.

Trustees of the New York State hospital for Incipient Pulmonary Tuberculosis, in the Adirondacks, issued Sept. 20, their report for the first year.

Two hundred and seven patients were admitted during the year, more than half of whom were incipients. There were no deaths. Of the 105 patients discharged, fifty-two were apparently recovered. The word "apparently" is used advisedly, as the officers do not feel that a consumptive can be said to be cured until he has been two years or more without any symptoms of the disease.

Treatment in the hospital, consists mainly of outdoor air, wholesome food and rest. Scarcely any medicine is given. The patients have three full meals and two or three luncheons a day. The effect of the generous diet is shown by the marked gain in weight, nine of the 105 gaining an average of 10.57 pounds each.

Those remarkable beings who patiently instruct the 35, 40 and 50 children all day long when each individual child's parents lose their patience every day are now receiving instruction in Towanda. The school teacher is a public institution and like other public institutions is a thing to kick at, hammer and knock. If the same unreason were used by teachers to their pupils that parents use in criticising a teacher the whole field of education would be turned into awful chaos. The teacher is here to learn that she may impart again to the pupil. She is to receive renewed ambition for teaching in the best manner of which she is capable. She is to receive sympathy in matters where she and the public have crossed angry paths. The institute is a splendid thing and the most splendid adjuncts to it are the teachers themselves.

"All things come to him who waits," do they? Not always. Well, we guess not always. The Democrats of Bradford county waited for the Republicans to complete their ticket before they dared to complete their own; they hoped by waiting they would secure some advantage by reason of possible factional quarrels on the other side. But the waiting game has not worked well. There is entire harmony in the Republican ranks, the ticket is complete, and the party is unitedly behind it. The Republican candidates will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

The Japanese police confiscate the "smoking instruments" of any youth under twenty years as well as his supply of the weed. Parents and guardians who knowingly permit the offense are liable to a fine of 50 cents and dealers who furnish a minor with the wherewithal may be fined $5. The law was passed in 1900.

In the opinion of a good many Democrats it would have been just as well if the Democrats had not filled up their County ticket at all. Whats the use? To put a man on the Democratic ticket in Bradford county; except for commissioner or auditor, is rubbing it in.

It never pays a man beyond some slight temporary gain to deceive a man in any kind of a busines transaction. No man can afford to sell his reputation for probity, honesty, truthfulness or fair dealing at any price.

PREACHERS POORLY PAID.

A certain well known lawyer belonging to a Methodist conference where 117 pastors receive a salary of $600 a year or less, is reported to have said, "My college chum was my equal in every respect and in some respects my superior. After twenty-five years of sucessful ministerial work I discovered that his annual income was the exact amount I paid for the keep of my horse at the livery stable."

These facts refer more especially to the country pastor, but they are equally applicable to the majority of clergymen in the smaller cities, for few get more than $1,500 which is little better than $500 in the country as their living expenses are necessarily much greater. Often a pastorate in the country means that the minister has two congregations, just far enough apart to make a union of the two impracticable. This also means that three sermons a Sunday must be delivered usually. Aside from the mental wear, the two charges often make it necessary for the minister to keep a horse which is somewhat expensive luxury for the rest of the week, when it is not in use. Then in the winter these trips are frequently exhausting experiences. The donations help the pastor to provide for his family but often these gifts resemble those in the temple which were unacceptable because of their blemish and imperfections. Some of the rural pastors have large families and then it is an absolute necessity for them to perform other work, such as raising garden produce or by farming, in order to support the family. One Connecticut minister tills five or six acres of land connected with the parsonage. Last year he raised enough strawberries and other small garden truck to more than double his income.

"Yes, it is true,' he said when asked, "I make more tilling that five or six acres of land than I do preaching the gospel. They say that farming doesn't pay in New England any more but I think it pays better than preaching the gospel when one figures on a basis of dollars and cents."

Is it strange, in consideration of these facts, that so few think they can afford to enter the ministry on these terms? The only wonder is that there are so many men devoted enough to give up their lives to what is little less than drudgery to keep body and soul together. How can men minister to spiritual needs of other men when the constant thought must be concerning the things which pertain to their own physical needs?

FOR TARIFF REVISION.

The Republicans of Massachusetts, almost unanimously in their recent convention, declared for a revision of the tariff. There are many industries which are alleged to be in a bad way because of excessive duties on raw products which are sold at excessive prices in this country.

The platform adopted contained, in a brief, an endorsement of the administration of President Roosevelt, especial mention being made of his part in bringing about peace between Russia and Japan, and of his enforcement of the laws preventing great corporations from oppressing the people by unjust discriimnation or by the destruction of lawful competition, a recommendation for the enactment by congress of a tariff provision which shall protect American markets against discrimination and to secure to the United States the treatment accorded to the most favored nation in all foreign markets and a resolution for the increase of the navy and the upbuilding of the American merchant marine.

A remarkable case of surgery is reported in Elmira. William Volker fell down stairs and broke his neck. When taking him to the hospital two policemen who had charge of him failed to handle him with care, and by permitting his neck to roll with sort of go-as-you-please gait, the vertebra snapped back into place and William immediately became all right.

Love and Memory.

Although above the bird sings loud,
My heart is wrapped within a shroud
Of darkness and of gloom;
The sun for me has lost its light,
For me the day is always night,
My thoughts are on the tomb—
The tomb within those ashes lie,
So dear to love and memory!

Ah! Love has found a willing slave!
And here I bend above her grave,
Whose life was like a star.
Yet, meteor-like, 'twas quickly spent;
She left me, and my heart was rent;
She dwells in worlds afar:
Afar from me in worlds above
Where peace doth reign, and joy, and love!

So let me live, that I may leave
This earth, no heart for me may grieve;
But say, with smiles, not tears:
"She walks with her whose crown of light
Illumes her path with radiance bright,
Hush'd are her sighs and fears,"
So let me live; and when I die,
Still live in love and memory!

SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION.

To Be Held at Sayre and at Camptown This Month.

The eleventh annual convention of the Bradford County Sabbath School association will be held at Sayre Tuesday and Wednesday, October 24 and 25, and at Camptown on Thursday and Friday, October 26 and 27. The program and speaking will be the same at each place. Each school in the county is expected to have representatives at one or the other of the above places. Free entertainment will be provided for two delegates but when more than this number are sent from one school the committee cannot promise that the extra ones will be entertained free.

The program which has been prepared for the convention is a strong one.

The general summary of the schools for the county, made by Mrs. Marion Schmauch, statistical secretary, shows the following totals: No. of schools, 179, of which 132 are open the year 'round; four teachers' training classes; 48 separate rooms for primary pupils; 12 cradle rolls; 14 home departments; 2,062 officers and teachers; 12,014 pupils of all ages; total enrollment of 14,796; 592 joined a church or were confirmed.

The Peace Autumn.

Thank God for rest, where none molest
And none can make afraid—
For Peace that sits as Plenty's guest
Beneath the homestead shade!
Build up an altar to the Lord,
O grateful hearts of ours!
And shape it of the greenest sward
That ever drank the showers.

Lay all the bloom of gardens there
And there the orchard fruits;
Bring golden grain from sun and air,
From earth her goodly roots.
There let the common heart keep time
To such an anthem sung
As never swelled on poet's rhyme,
Or thrilled on singer's tongue.

A song of praise to him who filled
The harvests sown in tears,
And gave each field a double yield
To feed the battle-years!
A song of faith that trusts the end
To match the good begun,
Nor doubts the power of love to blend
The hearts of men as one!

CHARACTER OF SHOWS AT COUNTY FAIR CONDEMNED.

Minister Gives His Views on the Question in Letter.

To the Editors of The Reporter-Journal.

I desire through the columns of your good paper to speak of the Bradford County Fair that closed Sept. 29. Being in full sympathy with the primary object of the great Agricultural Society of this county, we found many things in the annual exhibit that were commendable and helpful to the best interests of the county.

The farm exhibit from field, garden and stall, although not as large as in some former years, was good in quality and showed progress. The art exhibit showed the skill of cultured brain and trained hand. The Mercantile department was most excellent in quality, showing goods up to date The display of improved Agricultural implements and modern machinery to help the tillers of the soil were of a high order and attracted much attention. The men of heart and brain that spoke dipped their oar of thought in the sea of mind in a way to stir manhood and womanhood to clearer views of our opportunities and how to improve upon them.

The opportunity provided by the society upon their grounds for people to come together and renew old friendships and make new ones was a pleasure for every lover of his fellow man.

With all these and many other commendable features, we with many others were greatly surprised and pained at some things that were allowed on the grounds, when the society gave the impression in their published rules and regulations in somewhat vague terms that all games of chance and gambling devices would be excluded. But these games in many forms were all there to get money from the boys from farm and school.

The side shows that made pure womanhood blush were allowed a prominent place, and what young boys and men testified to that they saw behind the curtains cannot be put in print for the public. If it is the judgment of the men of the Agricultural Society that the morals of the people of Bradford County demand that kind of an annual exhibit, we in behalf of christian intelligence of the county take issue with them and declare it is a serious mistake for the society for a few dollars to allow these objectionable things on the grounds. We believe the good people of our county care more for good morals than for money obtained by questionable methods. The question is becoming a serious one. Shall we close our day schools and take our sons and daughters, brought up under church influences, and members of various young people's societies and who are being trained for usefulness, to the annual county fair to be met there with needless demoralizing influences or shall we keep them at home and at school as a matter of moral safety and protection.

Now "With charity for all and malice towards none" and a believer in repentance and reformation I wish to state in behalf of the Christian intelligence of grand old Bradford County that we sincerely hope that the reformation on our County Fair grounds will make it such that we can heartily support it by our presence and means.

A Protest.

Many representative people feel impelled to make a vigorous protest against the indecent "aggregations" occupying prominent positions at the last Bradford county fair. We think than when the managers of the fair find it necessary to sell their self respect as well as that of every man, woman and child attending the fair for a few paltry pieces of silver it is high time to call a halt. The filthy talk bawled forth from the platforms of several of the sideshows (the actions were beneath mention) would bring a blush of shame to the face of any self respecting person.

Is this necessary to a fair?

LOCOMOTIVE IS DEMOLISHED.

While Running at Full Speed Near Ringdale on Friday Evening a Locomotive Exploded, Killing One Instantly and Fatally Injuring Another

David Davis, engineer, and Cleon Karschner, fireman of the Williamsport & North Branch passenger train that left Towanda on Friday evening at 5:38 o'clock, met their deaths through an explosion of their locomotive. Davis was instantly killed and Karschner was so terribly injured that he died at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning to the Williamsport hospital.

At 7:25 o'clock, while running at the ordinary rate of speed a mile and a half beyond the Ringdale station the boiler of the locomotive exploded with terrific force. Engineer Davis was blown a distance of 200 feet forward; he was terribly mangled and death was instantaneous. Fireman Karschner was blown 180 feet to the rear. Both his arms and both legs were broken, his skull was fractured and his body was scalded. He was hurried to the Williamsport hospital. Davis was 50, and Karschner 30 years of age. Both men lived at Hughesville. The balance of the train crew and the passengers escaped all injury except a shaking up.

On board the train were the general manager of the Pennsylvania Telephone company and his lineman, Ellery Swank. Swank cut into the line with his test instrument and called Hughesville for assistance and Dushore for doctors. Relief came promptly and at 11 o'clock a train left the scene of the accident for Williamsport.

The locomotive was literally demolished, not enough being left of it to repair. A hole was scooped in the roadway, as one witness described it, large enough to bury a team of horses, and a swath 30 feet wide for a considerable distance was blown through the trees and brush along the right of way. The front car of the train was badly damaged. There is no known cause for the disaster.

Funeral services for the men were held on Tuesday.

Bernice Branch Tied Up.

At South Branch Saturday morning a siderod on the engine drawing Conductor Dunfee's Lehigh Valley accommodation train broke, and the train was stalled there. The Williamsport & North Branch passenger was the other side of the breakdown and Conductor Ganley went out and brought in the passengers. The wreck crew went out and got the disabled engine.

A wreck on the Harveys Lake branch Saturday afternoon blocked the track and the Wilkesbarre passenger train, due at 7:20 in the evening, did not reach Towanda until Sunday morning.

RESISTED SHOEMAKER.

Special Fish Warden Had Lively Sabbath Day.

On Sunday Special Fish Warden W. E. Shoemaker and deputy Fred LaSuer took a trip down the river. Below Mehoopany they found a man fishing, but he threw his fish in the river and escaped up the mountain.

About two miles this side of Vosburg they found a man named George Jayne fishing. Shoemaker placed him under arrest and attempted to get in his boat when Jayne struck Shoemaker a violent blow over his head and on his left arm, with a boat oar. About this time Shoemaker and LaSuer got busy with their oars and for a time the clubbing was fast and furious. Finally Shoemaker threw Jayne in the river and then pulled him in his own boat. After some fighting there Jayne was finally handcuffed, and after promising to be good he was taken before 'Squire Kutz at Tunkhannock and held for a hearing at 10 o'clock Monday morning, when he was fined $30 for three under-sized bass, $25 for Sunday fishing and $100 for resisting an officer. We understand that Jayne has appealed the case.—Laceyville Messenger.

Award for Plaintiff.

Colonel E. J. Ayers, D. T. Evans and W. J. McCabe as arbitrators on Friday filed their award in the suit of A. B. Bailey vs. Mary E. Lane which was heard in the arbitration room on Monday. The suit arose over the lease of a farm in Burlington township, Bailey alleging that the defendant did not keep the provisions of the lease in regard to furnishing cows and putting up a barn. The arbitrators gave the plaintiff a judgment of $53.33. C. M. Culver and S. Bergen Park appeared for the plaintiff and Lilley & Wilson for the defendant.

A Troy item in the Elmira Advertiser says: "Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Long returned yesterday from a several days' visit in Towanda. Mr. Long was tendered a dinner party in honor of his birthday on Monday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Albert Baker, at which all of his children and grandchildren were present. A handsome lounging robe was presented him in honor of the occasion."

Democratic Ticket Filed.

The committee appointed to fill vacancies on the Democratic county ticket has completed its work by naming W. W. Whitman of Canton, as the candidate for prothonotary. Mr. Whitman is one of the best citizens of Canton borough and a man who would be a credit to any party or any ticket.

SWIFT CRIMINAL CAREERS OF TWO YOUNG MEN.

Burglary, Robbery From the Person and Horse Stealing Specialties.

A little over a year ago James Vandermark served a term in Towanda jail for stealing a valise at the upper station. Last January, while he was visiting his uncle, R. F. Lamberson, at Powell, he robbed the house and fled. He was arrested for larceny in Tioga county, N. Y., and at the expiration of his sentence was taken to Ontario county, N. Y., charged with horse stealing. The grand jury failed to indict him on that charge but he was rearrested Thursday by Officer Hollon and held at Canandaigua to await requisition papers, to answer the Powell burglary. He is only 22 years of age.

Norman W. Ackley of Bernice, formerly of Towanda, aged 22, robbed Alexander Thompson in East Towanda during the fair, while Thompson was in a drunken slumber of $17 in cash and a Laquin Lumber company check for $24.06. He forged the name on the check and attempted to get the cash at the Citizens National bank, was refused, exchanged it for merchandise with a Towanda business man, jumped a freight train and went to Wilkes-Barre. It is alleged he robbed a man at Wilkes-Barre the next day, went to Bernice Saturday, returned to Wilkes-Barre Monday and was caught in the act of robbing a man on the river bank and locked up.

To gain something of his pedigree, Wilkes-Barre officers put a fake prisoner in the cell with him, when he remarked that he hoped they would not hear of his arrest in Towanda. Officer Hollon identified him Friday as the man wanted here, but will have to wait until Luzerne county gets through with him. He is also wanted at Sayre on two or three charges.

CUTTING WIRES.

Camptown-Herrick Telephone Company Allege Bad Work on Lines.

The Camptown-Herrick telephone company and the Bell system have been using the same poles on which to string their wires in some instances. This arrangement has proven mutually agreeable till last week when Bell workmen went along the line between here and Stevensville and wherever they found a Camptown-Herrick wire hanging on their poles, the nippers were at once used and the wires were cut and left dangling in the road.

This same trick was worked by the Bell workmen in the western part of the county and there is war between the Independents and the Bell in that section. What there will be up the Wyalusing creek time alone will tell. —Wyalusing Rocket.

Court Proceedings.

Statutory requirements having been complied with, charter of incorporation granted to the North Orwell Union Hall association.

Jas. Arey vs. Fred Schock and Hannah Schock. Rule to show cause why judgment entered in this case should not be stricken off made absolute.

Estate of Norman C. McKean. On petition, administrator discharged.

O. L. Haverly, cashier, vs. J. P. Fletcher. Rule granted to show cause why judgment should not be opened and defendant let into defence.

George Olmstead vs. Walter Moore. Case settled.

The death of L. M. Hall, Esq., a member of the Bradford county Bar having been announced at a meeting of the Bar association, Judge Fanning appointed Henry Streeter, John C. Ingham and I. McPherson a committee to prepare a suitable memorial to be presented to court at a time to be hereafter announced.

Troy Court Revoked.

There are but five cases at issue in the ten townships and four boroughs embraced in the jurisdiction of the Troy court. Two of these, owing to illness of parties, would of necessity be continued and the remaining business would not warrant the expense of requiring the attendance of the jurors at the October term. In view of these facts and at the request of the attorneys interested Judge Fanning Saturday morning revoked the order for the Fall term and directed that notice to that effect be sent to the jurors summoned.

Valuable Historic Relic.

G. M. Clark of Towanda has presented to the Bradford County Historical society a cannon ball weighing two and three-fourths pounds, fired by General Sullivan's artillery and found imbedded in a huge walnut tree on the Chemung flats about a third of a mile below where the D. L. & W. R. R. crosses the Erie tracks north of Chemung village. There were twelve to fourteen inches of growth around the ball. This missile was doubtless used at the time General Sullivan engaged the Indians at the Hog-Back and burned the village of Chemung.

Bucktails Dedicate a Tablet.

Veterans of the famous Bucktail regiment, the Thirteenth Pennsylvania Reserves, on Friday dedicated a memorial tablet at Gettysburg battlefield. The tablet is placed on the spot where Colonel Taylor fell, within 50 yards of the monument erected by the State in honor of the regiment.

Manager Schmaltz, of the Pittston Brothers base ball team, has received word that the Philadelphia Athletics will line up against the Brothers in that city within the next two weeks.

Cleared a Handsome Sum.

The ladies of the Towanda Methodist Episcopal church cleared the handsome sum of $286.39 from their conduct of the dining room on the fair grounds.

TWO FISHY CASES.

Squire Meredith Dispensed Justice for Athens Fishermen.

Justice Meredith's court was kept busy all day Thursday with cases involving violation of the fish laws in the vicinity of Athens. In the morning Messrs. Allen and Hainesworth had a hearing on the charge of illegal use of an eel weir. They were found guilty, but took an appeal to quarter sessions. Allen admitted on the stand that he allowed others to fish on his wier and a warrant was swor out on that charge. He will have a hearing Thursday.

The afternoon session was devoted to hearing the case of Louis Woodward, Jr., and John Quinn, young men of Athens. Wardens Shoemaker and LaSeur swore that the boys were fishing on Sunday evening, Sept 24, and produced a trolling line and reel, a small reel and line, a line wound on a spool and a small rod and line, as well as a can of bait which they took from the boat in which they found the men. They also testified that Woodward threw overboard a string of fish. Witnesses for the defense gave evidence entirely opposite to the above, swearing that the boys were merely out for a row on the river and the fishing tackle had been left in the boat from the day before. Justice Meredith discharged the defendants.

At the conclusion of the hearing County Detective Andrew McGovern served a warrant on Shoemaker charging him with assault and battery on Woodward, who is a cripple. Shoemaker proceeded to give bail before Mr. Meredith for his appearance at court, waiving a hearing, a proceeding McGovern strenuously objected to, declaring his intention of taking the warden forthwith before Justice Johnson at Athens. Later he changed his mind.

BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED.

Miss Rose Block of New York City, and Bernard Loewus to Wed.

Mrs. Emma Block, at a formal dinner tendered at her residence, 334 East 87th street, New York City, on Oct. 1, 1905, announced tne betrothal of her daughter, Rose Isabel, to Bernard Loewus of Towanda, Pa. The invited guests included the relatives of the young couple and numbered many residents of Towanda. The house was elaborately decorated for the occasion. The tables were banked with American beauty roses and wreathes of simlax in profusion were suspended from the chandeliers. The dinner was especially well prepared and consisted of the choicest viands and delicacies of the season.

Amid the popping of champagne corks the young people received the heartiest congratulations and best wishes from their friends. Adolph Block, a brother of Miss Block, a well known lawyer in New York, gracefully presided as toast master and there were many happy responses and toasts offered, including one by Henry Block, also a member of the New York bar and a brother of Miss Block. Later in the evening a reception followed which was attended by many more friends of both families. The entire house, consisting of five spacious floors, presented a brilliant and happy scene. A collation was later served to the evening's guests and dancing and music continued until the early hours of the morning. The young couple were the recipients of many hanunome and costly gifts.

Ministerial Appointments Changed.

After the close of the Central New York conference of the M. E. church in Elmira last week, the officers of the East Troy church decided to increase the salary paid on that charge, which includes West Burlington, and the appointment of Rev. W. H. S. Loller at Liberty Corners and Asylum was revoked and he will remain for the fourth year at East Troy. Rev. V. W. Mattoon, appointed to East Troy, has been sent to Beaver Dams, N. Y., and the Liberty Corners and Asylum charge is to be supplied later.

Evangelizing Slavs.

The Presbyterian church has decided to make an organized effort to evangelize the Slavs, 25,000 of whom have settled in the anthracite coal regions, coming here direct from Europe. Rev. Joseph Kohot has been placed in the field as missionary, and churches will be established in Lehigh, Northumberland, Monroe, Carbon, Luzerne and Schuylkill counties.

Herds Tested for Tuberculosis.

Herds of cattle in Standing Stone township owned by the following parties were tested for tuberculosis by Dr. R. G. Rice last week: Dr. F. J. Kingsley, John Fisher, Asa Ennis, Geo. Stevens, Fred Ennis, Jos. Stevens, H. E. Huff and C. H. Huff. No tuberculosis was found in any of these herds.

Monroeton Won.

Monroeton defeated the second High school team in a closely contested game last Saturday, by a score of 6 to 0. The first team did not play Saturday as Capt. Smith wishes his men to be in good condition for the big game on Thursday between the High School and Athens High School.

A Chance For Improvement.

The efforts of the Village Improvement society have been bent upon beautifying the river bank, but no move has yet been made to eradicate the unsightly bootblacking establishment from the marble vestibule of the $200,000 court house.

Johnson Hearing Continued.

The Supreme Court has continued the hearing of the appeal of Charles Johnson from the finding of the Oyer and Terminer court of Bradford county, from Monday, Oct. 9, to Monday, Oct. 30.

CARNEGIE'S GIFT TO SAYRE.

Donates $1200 Towards a New Pipe Organ for Episcopal Church.

Andrew Carnegie, the philanthropic millionaire has given $1200 to the Church of the Redeemer at Sayre for the purpose of purchasing a new organ for the church. The donation was made to Rev. F. T. Cady Thursday.

The Church of the Redeemer has for a long time been attempting to raise money for a new organ for a reed organ is inadequate for such a large edifice. At the time the church was presented to the town the donor, Mrs. Packer gave the congregation a choice between a clock which is now called "the town clock" or an organ and the congregation chose the former. Some time ago Mrs. Cummings of Mauch Chunk gave $500 towards a new organ and this sum has been increased until it is now reached $1200.

The vestry of the church wanted to double that sum of money and Rev. Mr. Cady has been recently corresponding with philanthropists, but without results. Recently the vestry decided to send the rector to New York on a quest of money and he left Monday morning on the mission. He was unable to see Mr. Carnegie personally but presented the needs of the church to the philanthropist's private secretary and was successful.—Evening News.

Dead Body Found.

The body of an unknown man was found on Tuesday of last week at Campville near Owego on the Erie road. The abdomen was ripped open as with a sharp knife and the throat partially cut. On the man's person was found $7 in money but no marks of identification. He was about 45 years of age, 180 to 190 pounds in weight, had light hair, closely clipped mustache, wore a black suit, heavy shoes and a blue and white striped shirt. It is believed that the man may have been murdered and then thrown off from a train. The man was later identified as Richard Barnya, recently of Ithaca.

The Dallas Races.

At the races at the Dallas fair on Wednesday, in the 2:20 class, Miss Sue, L. G. Marshall Rome came in last. In the 2:40 class, which was unfinished, DeCosta H., J. G. Pratt, Towanda, won the first heat and then came in second, third and fourth in the other three heats; Phleta, the Monroeton horse, won the fourth heat and came in sixth, fourth and second in the other three.

Ideal Dairy Conditions.

Dr. L. T. Connolley last week tested for tuberculosis the herds of Mrs. Esther Bostwick, Miss York and Geo. Bustin in Wysox township. Every one of the 30 head was found free from disease. Dr. Connolley commends the surroundings of the dairies of Mrs. Bostwick and Miss York as being the most sanitary and best kept of any he has seen.

TEN MILLIONS ENOUGH

Commander Rodney, U.S.N., Wants Fortunes Limited to That.

UNCLE SAM TO TAKE THE REST

Retired Naval Officer Thinks That In Such a Course Lies the Only Safety of the Republic—Purgatory For Wicked Rich Who Grind the Poor.

New York, Oct. 9.—Commander Robert Burton Rodney, U. S. N., retired, has sent broadcast a most remarkable circular calling upon the United States government to limit the fortunes of individuals to $10,000,000, all holdings over that amount to be condemned and forfeited into the United States treasury.

In the opening of his unusual circular Commander Rodney says:

"Begin the national and state constitutions with the invocation 'In the name of God, amen!'

"Preclude private property right being carried to absurd infinitude."

$10,000,000 the Limit.

Continuing, the commander declares: "No citizen or resident or investor in any or all states, territories or districts shall be permitted to possess in any or all kind of property an aggregate value of more than $10,000,000, which sum shall be the limit of private property in or for any individual, agent or other form or device of private estate ownership or reserved for each inheritor or legatee. And whenever or wherever such aforesaid private ownership shall be found to exceed the limit above named the excess shall be condemned whether or not as a public nuisance, a public folly or a public fine and be accordingly forfeited into the United States treasury.

"You have either to limit fortunes or see certain ones redouble with endless thousands of millions of dollars each. They were started by watering and gambling in stocks or cornering city real estate and natural products. Compound interest has done and will do the rest, tariff or no tariff, tax or no tax, trusts or no trusts.

Anarchy's Prophylactic.

"Anarchy's prophylactic is to supply to the law in some form the centrifugal principle, without which, the law being purely centripetal, simply draws all wealth into as few hands as possible.

"The Mosaic is the only code which ever had sense enough to provide for the centrifugal. God's safeguard was, 'Restore and start again.' Man substituted, 'Destroy and start again.'

"When Adam was expelled from Eden, had then our law and order, peace and progress, civilization and chewing gum, begun and continued absolutely unbroken to the law's last analysis, the whole world had long ago, through the inevitable and inexorable centripetal force of concentrated compound interest, become the property of the one individual who represented the continuously largest fortune.

"Boundless compound interest is the apotheosis of deadheadism. The criterion of private fortune, which half a century ago was in the hundreds of thousands of dollars each, is now in the hundreds of millions each. And eventually a fortune will not be pronounced up to the full regulation deadhead standard until it has redoubled into thousands of millions."

The Danger.

Commander Rodney then points out the danger of increasing fortunes and the possibility of revolution started in the crowded cities. For national safety, he says, cities should be reduced rather than increased in size. He predicts purgatory for the rich who have extorted money from the masses.

"To mortify, warn and restrain Mammon worship," says the commander, "engrave on coin, currency and bonds Caesar's saying, 'The more dollars, the more damnation.'"

Commander Rodney is sixty-one years old and was formerly a paymaster in the navy. He retired with the rank of a commander five years ago.

How to Get the Ten Million.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Wearing a red necktie, as usual, Banker John Farson went to work carrying with him a batch of precepts for his clerks. It was Mr. Farson's fiftieth birthday, and these were the precepts he handed out: "I have always made it a point to get in with the right kind of people—those who know more than you do. Money is not everything in this world. My home and my friends are my main sources of happiness. Look at all the rich men in this country who won't even smile. They are absolutely friendless. Their lives haven't been a success. I attribute my success to hard work, cheerfulness and living within my income." Mr. Farson, who is many times a millionaire, declared recently that he would give $1,000,000 for a model servant girl.

CUDAHY STOLE HIMSELF.

Pat Crowe Says Packer's Son Planned His Own Kidnaping.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 4.—There is no longer any doubt that the man arrested here as Pat Crowe is that long sought for and elusive kidnaper. He admits his identity and says that since the kidnaping of Eddie Cudahy on Dec. 19, 1900, he has traveled over the world and fought in the Boer war, where he was wounded.

Crowe made a sensational statement relative to the Cudahy kidnaping, declaring that the proposition was made to him by young Cudahy himself and that the young man got $6,000 of the ransom money, Crowe $9,500 and the latter's partner, Callahan, the same sum. Young Cudahy wanted the ransom price fixed at $50,000, but his partners believed that amount too steep and placed it at $25,000.

BANKER GOES TO POOR FARM

Once an Associate of Commodore Vanderbilt and Jay Gould.

New York, Oct. 10.—Jefferson P. Raplee, the banker, fourscore and six years old, who was taken from the Westchester county poorhouse last August by a woman who said she was his niece and, it was reported, promised to care for him the rest of his life, was sent to the farm colony of the outdoor poor department on Staten Island at his own request.

Mr. Raplee when he was admitted to the Westchester institution took with him a trunk and won the peculiar notoriety of being the only poor man who ever went to the poorhouse with a trunk. Mr. Raplee took with him to the poor farm colony a good sized suit case.

For many years Mr. Raplee was well known in local financial circles. He is a son of the late Nehemiah Raplee, judge of Gates county for many years, delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1860 and successful banker at Dundee, N. Y. The son came to New York many years ago.

At his father's death Raplee inherited considerable money and extended his operations, being associated in deals with Commodore Vanderbilt, Jay Gould and John P. Blair. Prosperity followed him until 1869, when unfortunate speculation caused his failure.

Following the assignment, Mr. Raplee began business again and was fairly prosperous for a time, but gradually lost everything.

TO IGNORE TARIFF.

President, It Is Said, Will Not Mention It In Message.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Revision of the tariff will not be sought by President Roosevelt at the coming session of congress. He has let it be understood that he had been forced to the conclusion that he must abandon either the demand for railroad legislation or the demand for tariff changes and that he had decided to center his efforts upon the former.

The president knows that to obtain satisfactory legislation either on rates or the tariff will be a herculean task, even with all his popularity and power. To attempt to carry out both reforms, it is conceded, would be to defeat both.

Boston Asks For Tariff Revision.

Boston, Oct. 10.—At the annual meeting here of the Boston Associated Board of Trade, composed of twenty-three constituent bodies, a stand was taken in favor of tariff revision. A resolution was adopted asking that congress at its coming session consider the question of reducing rates of duty on certain articles and putting coal, iron, lumber and hides on the free list.

To Develop the Philippines.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The Bulutakai Hemp company was incorporated for the purpose of cultivating and dealing in hemp, rice, cocoanuts, rubber, etc., and to carry on a general development business in the Philippine Islands. The capital is $100,000, and the principal office is located in Shortsville, Ontario county, N. Y. The directors are: William H. Brown, Havre de Grace, Md.; J. Morgan Stoddard, Charles E. Brown and Benjamin F. Slocum, Shortsville; John C. Lenhart and James P. Skinner, Davao, Mindinao, P. I., and Arthur A. Sterling of Canandaigua.

Root's Cure For War.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Secretary of State Root, addressing the international sanitary convention, said: "I believe almost all war and bitterness between nations result from misunderstanding, from a failure of the people of one country to appreciate the people of another. The cure of national misunderstandings is acquaintance, the cultivation of good relations and friendship. May you accomplish much for that common humanity for which we all join in most sincere wishes and devout prayers."

For Closer Watch on Trust Companies.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The trust company section and the savings banks section of the American Bankers' association held annual sessions here, preliminary to the thirty-first annual convention of the association. In his annual address to the trust company section President Potter said he did not wish to go on record as to whether or not there should be federal control of trust companies, but he wished to emphatically urge "frequent and rigid examinations, whether state or federal."

Uncle Sam's Hawaiian Lands.

Honolulu, Oct. 10.—A complete survey of the public lands of the territory has just been finished by the survey department, and the land office has made a list of the lands showing that in all the islands there are 1,719,160 acres of government lands. Of these nearly all are under leases, mostly to sugar plantations. The lands which are not under lease aggregate 400,809 acres.

Alice Roosevelt In Tokyo.

Tokyo, Oct. 10.—Miss Alice Roosevelt passed through Tokyo on her way to Yokohama escorted by Master of the Ceremonies Nagaskai Seigo, specially detailed from the imperial household department to accompany Miss Roosevelt. She will sail from Yokohama for San Francisco Oct. 13.

"Iron Jaw Man" Gives Up.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 8.—Signor Lawonda, known to every circus man as the original "iron jawed strong man," entered the Central station and pleaded with Lieutenant Walpole to be arrested. He is being treated for delirium tremens.

Mitchell Sees Peace.

Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—John Mitchell has arrived here from New York. He said, "I can see no reason why there should be a general coal strike next spring."

FORTUNE FOR BEHRING

New Yorker Wants Him to Publish Consumption Cure Now.

WILL GIVE $50,000 IF HE DOES

Name of Prospective Donor Not Made Public, but He Is One of the Richest Men In the American Metropolis. Physicians Credit Professor's Claim.

New York, Oct. 10.—From New York comes a direct offer of $50,000 to Professor Behring if he will at once announce to the world his cure for consumption instead of postponing the announcement a year.

The offer is made by one of the wealthiest and best known residents of this city, who has requested that his name be withheld for the present. While he stipulates that he will himself give $50,000 in cash, he suggests that this sum be made part of a fund to be contributed to the Paris physician who discovered the diphtheria antitoxin and who announced at the international tuberculosis congress only a few days ago that he had at last found a cure for consumption.

One qualification is made in the $50,000 offer. It is that the treatment must first be pronounced successful by a competent committee of physicians, of which the donor's physician, one of the widest known practitioners in America, is to be a member.

Professor Behring's reported discovery has given rise to interviews with celebrated physicians everywhere. Some of the most prominent say they are doubtful of the results of the remedy because its scientific composition has not yet been made public.

Several doctors advise a prudent caution in accepting the announcement, so as to avoid delusions like that aroused fifteen years ago by the alleged discovery of another so called cure.

The consensus of opinion is that the discovery is important in view of the reputation of Dr. Behring.

Castro Tries to Conciliate France.

Paris, Oct. 10.—Since President Castro's return to Caracas from Los Toques he has made repeated advances to M. Taigny, the French charge d'affaires, for the purpose of resuming friendly intercourse, apparently intending to ignore his previous offensive action in refusing to deal with the government of France through M. Taigny. The latter, acting on the instructions from Paris, declines to meet the advances or resume intercourse with the Venezuelan government until Venezuela complies with the French request to withdraw the offensive action.

"Treated Like a Chinaman."

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Dr. Theodor Zincke, professor of chemistry in the University of Marburg, Germany, and one of the most eminent of German scientists, who passed through Chicago on his way to New York, declared that, although he had traveled all over Europe, Asia and Africa, he never before received such discourteous treatment as was given him when he entered the United States. He asserted that on his way to Seattle last week he was "treated like a Chinaman" and forced to pay a fee of $2 before he was allowed to cross the boundary line.

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION OF TAXPAYERS' ASSOCIATION.

Outline of the By-Laws Adopted at Orwell—Other Towns in Line.

The movement for the organization of taxpayers' associations in the Eastern part of the county, first started in Orwell, is spreading. Windham has organized, Herrick is organizing and on Wednesday of this week an association will be formed at Rome. An outline of the by-laws adopted and the objects in view may be obtained from the following adopted by the association at Orwell:

The name of this organization shall be the Orwell Township Taxpayer's association.

The object is to keep the taxpayers in Orwell Township more closely in touch with one another, with similar organizations, and with the regularly elected officials of the township, county and state; to reduce taxes as far as consistent with true economy; to provide practical remedies and means for general improvement; to educate the taxpayer as to his duties towards his representatives, as well as the obligations of the representatives to the taxpayer; to give the taxpayers a chance to discuss existing laws and proposed legislation, and so learn their own wishes in regard to such; and to insist on intelligent, progressive, and business-like administration of public affairs.

All taxpayers of the township shall be eligible to membership.

The officers shall be a president, six vice presidents, a secretary, and a treasurer, who shall be elected at the first meeting of each year, to serve until their successors shall be duly elected. The nine officers shall constitute an executive committee. The duties of the officers shall be such as usually devolve upon like officials.

Regular meetings shall be held the first Wednesday evening of January, March, July, September, and November. Special meetings may be held at call of the president.

Resolutions.

Whereas, we, the members of the Orwell Township Taxpayer's association, taxpayers in the county of Bradford, do find our taxes grevious and burdensome, and in our judgment one of the sources of excessive expenditure is the present exorbitant sum paid the county treasurer, therefore be it

Resolved, That we pray the members of the board of county commissioners and members of the board of county auditors to investigate the same and if so found, to so fix the compensation of the said county treasurer that the sum total paid to him will not exceed fifteen hundred dollars per annum, said change in compensation to take effect as of January 1, 1906; and

Whereas, In our judgment another source of excessive expenditure is the present sum paid to the sheriff of said county for the board of prisoners, therefore be it further

Resolved, That we pray the Hon. A. C. Fanning, president judge of the courts of said county, to make an investigation of the same, and if so fuund, to reduce the compensation to a sum not exceeding thirty cents a day, said change in compensation to take effect as of January 1, 1906, and also,

Whereas, We believe that the taxpayers can by proper organization do much to further their interests, be it

Resolved, That we urge the taxpayers of other townships to organize along similar lines, so that by co-operation we can gain strength to make our requests respected.

Can't be perfect heath without pure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters makes pure blood. Tones and invigorates the whole system.

How To Do It.

A western advertiser who has made a success of his business because he realized the value of printer's ink has this to say: "If I want to get well acquainted with a man to whom I have been introduced, I speak to him every time I meet him. If I spoke to him once and then passed him without recognition the next time I saw him and continued to pass him without speaking, or perhaps speak to him two or three times a year, we wouldn't get to know each other very well. That's the way I look at advertising business. When I want the dealers of a certain territory to get so familiar with me that they will think of me whenever they are in need of goods in my line, I want to speak to them in every issue of the paper they get."

Tisn't safe to be a day without Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the house. Never can tell what moment an accident is going to happen.

NEW ALBANY.

A large reception was tendered Rev. W. T. Fitzgerald and family at the parsonage last Friday evening which was a complete surprise to them. At 7:30 the people began pouring in until the house was filled. Everyone was in the best of spirits and a general rejoicing and hearty welcoming took place that surpassed anything of the kind ever held in the history of the church.

Refreshments were served and the time passed in handshaking, visiting and song. It would have been considered a calamity to New Albany if Brother Fitzgerald had not been returned to this place.

The womans Christian Temperance Union was held at the residence of Mrs. L. C. Allen last Friday afternoon. The meeting was in charge of the Evangelistic superintendant, Mrs. W. H. Demorest. The subject was "Prayer." A chapter of "With Christ in the school of Prayer," by Rev. Andrew Murray, was read by Mrs. P. A. Waltman, showing how two who are in living touch of the Heavenly Father can claim the promise of Matt. 18: 19. Mrs. Fanny Jackson read how blessedly the promise of secret prayer was answered to David Brainard, the faithful and devout missionary to Susquehanna, Delaware and Stockbridge indians of America, and how through the reading of his life William Carey was led to India and his letter home being full of the love of God and man moved others to lay hold of God in united prayer, the outcome being the London Missionary society; also a chapter from "The Awakening in Wales" and some of the "Hidden Springs" writen by Mrs. Penn Lewis was read by Mrs. W. T. Fitzgerald, which was inspiring and acted as kindling to an experience meeting in which all took part, resolving that they would pray more and more harder towards having wrongs righted and God's kingdom built up in this place. Meeting adjourned to meet in two weeks at the residence of Mrs. O. W. Fawcett, who will conduct the meeting in the interests of her department of "Non Alcoholic Medication" or "Drugless Healing."

WELLS.

The new bridge near H. B. Cory's is completed.

Mrs. S. H. Ingersoll of Mosherville, has been on a visit to friends at Bath, N. Y.

One of the most inhuman and depraved acts of cruelty to animals occurred here recently. Some Elmira sports out on a nut gathering lark, tied the tails of two cows together, and one cow pulled the tail from the other cow. Such acts of cruelty should be severely dealt with. Still, some people think the farmer is a mean man if he puts up a sign of "no trespassing" on his land. The miserable wretches who tied the cow's tails together are known.

Bert Polk, a worthy young man, met with another heavy loss one night last week. His large Huber threshing machine was destroyed by fire. Mr. Polk had been threshing buckwheat for D. E. Benson, the machine set out in the field near the large stack of straw just threshed, which was burned with the machine. They finished the threshing early in the evening and left no fire in the engine or anywhere else near it. At a very early hour next morning the thresher was still burning and it is said to have been set on fire during the night. No insurance. Mr. Polk cannot imagine who owed him the grudge. He has got another thresher and will continue to finish up all his jobs.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Patterns For a Smart Suit Designed by Martha Dean—Nos. 6303 and 6304

In replenishing the wardrobe the street suit holds first place in the present apparel of womankind. Broadcloth continues the favorite material for this suit and is excellent for wear as well as for its good style. Plain colors are the vogue and very practical, as they remain so. The coat shown is in long three-quarter length, according to the latest dictates of fashion, and is fitted by seams which extend to the shoulder. The sleeve is the most approved style, as is the mannish collar. The skirt is one of the new circular models, with a seam in the center front. The back is finished with an inverted box plait, and either round or short round length may be used. The suit may be developed in any seasonable material, according to its uses. For the medium size ten yards of thirty-six inch material are needed. No. 6303, 32 to 42 inches bust; No. 6304, six sizes, 20 to 30 inches waist.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Send 20 cents to this office, give numbers of these patterns, Nos. 6303 and 6304, and state sizes desired. They will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Or either of the patterns will be sent for 10 cents. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

Pattern For Lady's Nine Gored Skirt Designed by Martha Dean—No. 6549

One of the prettiest of the new skirts is the nine gored model. It fits smoothly over the hips, closes in an inverted plait in back and flares with plenty of swish about the feet. While this style is neat and trim, it has a modishness which the more elaborate skirts lack. It is suited to any firm material from linen to broadcloth, needs only a good pressing to appear quite as good as if made by the tailor and will endure any amount of wear. The well dressed woman avoids overadornment in her walking skirts, and for this purpose the skirt shown is ideal. The pattern is free from difficulties of any kind. Six sizes, 20 to 30 inches waist measure.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern, No. 6549, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

REPORT OF SCHOOLS

Progress of the Bradford County Schools for Past Year.

TEACHERS BETTER QUALIFIED.

Standard of Examinations Raised and the Attendance and Study of Scholars Has Improved—Some Interesting Statistics.

Superintendent Putnam's report to the state superintendent of public instruction, for the fiscal year ending June 5, 1905, will be read with interest just at this time. It is as follows:

As Bradford was one of the counties most affected by the minimum salary law, perhaps the most noteworthy and, from the standpoint of the teacher, the most agreeable change in school matters was the substantial increase in teachers' salaries. Of the fifty-eight school districts fifty-three either wholly or in part were affected by the new law.

The rigid enforcement of a higher standard of qualification for certificates, however, obliged a majority of the teachers to devote considerable time to the study of the branches; and many invested a goodly portion of their increase in salary before their employment began.

Increase of salary was probably responsible for the closing of many small schools as the number open was thirty-seven less than the number open the previous year. A comparison of the following items from the statistical reports for the years ending June 1904 and June 1905 respectively show a noticeable improvement in the qualification of the teachers both as to experience and scholarship.

	1904	1905
Schools	486	449
Male teachers employed	92	96
Female teachers employed	404	361
Average age of teachers	25	26
Teachers who have had no previous experience	84	50
Those who have previously taught five or more annual terms	177	181
Teachers who hold provisional certificates	333	274
Teachers holding professional certificates	60	77
Teachers who hold permanent certificates	28	29
Teachers who have graduated at a State normal school	74	77
Teachers who have attended a normal school but did not graduate	27	34
Teachers who were educated in the common schools	50	42
Teachers who are graduates of colleges	13	14

Teachers Better Qualified.

When the fact is taken into consideration, that last year all who held provisional certificates were required to answer 75 per cent. of the questions asked in each subject, and those who received professional certificates were required to answer 90 per cent of the questions asked in each subject as against 50 per cent. for provisional and 75 per cent. for professional certificates in the year ending June 1904, I am sure that from the start we can say that in our county better salaries have given the schools better qualified teachers.

An improvement on the part of the pupils in our schools is indicated by the increased number of "Perfect Attendance" and Rural School Examination certificates given by the Superintendent last year. Certificates of perfect attendance were given to 441 pupils who were reported to have been neither absent nor tardy during the school term. The preceding year 294 were given. Rural school examinations were held April 3 and 4 in fifty-three schools, 234 were examined and certificates were sent to 100. The previous year 118 were examined and 45 received certificates. These certificates are accepted at all our High Schools for admission in lieu of examination.

Last Year's Institute.

The annual County Institute was held the week of Oct. 10 at Towanda. Dr. Nathan Schaeffer of the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, Pa.; Dr. Ruric N. Roark, Dean of the Department of Pedagogy, State University, Lexington, Ky.; Dr. C. B. Gilbert of New York City; and Dr. J. K. Street, Dean of the Department of Pedagogy, Syracuse University were the day instructors. Mr. O. H. Yetter had charge of the music and was assisted by the Misses Taylor who furnished instrumental and vocal selections. Evening lectures and entertainments were given as follows:

Monday—Lecture—Frederick William Unger—"The Russo-Japanese War and the Truth about the Yellow Peril."

Tuesday—Lecture—Dr. Russell H. Conwell—"Personal Glimpses of Celebrated Men and Women."

Wednesday — Entertainment — Leland Powers.

Thursday—Lecture—Chas. Emory Smith. "Are We Worse than Our Fathers."

Friday—Musical Entertainment—The Cleveland Ladies' Orchestra.

The attendance both on the part of the teachers and citizens was good and the sessions were both interesting and instructive.

Sessions of the Bradford County Educational Association were held at Troy, Towanda, and Ulster. The meeting at Towanda was held the tenth of February and was the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the organization. The meeting was also a joint meeting with the Bradford County Historical Society. Hon. Henry Houck gave an interesting lecture on "Travels in the Orient." Persons who taught fifty years ago were present and took part in the exercises. They were guests of the association.. A banquet at which more than a hundred were present was an enjoyable feature of the meeting.

The Bradford County Directors' Association held it annual meeting at Towanda, February 22. There were present more than one hundred directors and much interest was taken in the discussion of the various topics presented.

Eleven local institutes were held during the year and the teachers in attendance gave evidence of improvement and healthy progress in school work.

Five Farmers' Institutes were held and educational sessions were interesting features of these meetings.

Improvements and Changes.

A large commodious school building was erected in Sayre and will be in use the coming year.

Troy Independent School District was abolished the first Monday in June and is now again a part of Troy Township District. A four room building is being erected and the small schools surrounding East Troy will be closed and the pupils transported to the new graded school. The schools near Troy Borough were abandoned last year and the pupils transferred to the borough school. Thus of the eleven sub districts of Troy Township School District only three will likely be open this year. All the other schools will be consolidated at Troy and East Troy. The township will then have come nearer solving the consolidation and transportation problem than any other large district in the county.

An event of special interest to our county was a decision by Judge Fanning in a case brought against the directors of Standing Stone School District to compel them to either open a school that had been closed because of small attendance or to transport the children to a neighboring school. The Court held that the word "may" in the act of 1897 is to be construed "must" and that when directors close schools they must transport children who have farther to go "and" (instead of "or") are subjected to greater inconvenience by reason of closing the said schools.

A Good Industry.

Probably the only place in the world where women earn higher wages than men is in Troy, N. Y. A notable industry there is the making of collars and cuffs and the laundering of half a State's linen. In the factories and laundries are employed something like 10,000 girls who earn $15 to $25 a week according to their industry and positions, while the heads of certain departments are paid as much as $5 a day. Men are employed in both collar-making and laundering, but as they only attend to the rough work, such as running the machinery, stoking, attending to engines, etc., they receive wages which do not average more than $10 to $12 a week all the year round.

Owego Canoeists.

A party of Owego canoeists who came down the river on Friday were Mrs. T. L. Chatfield, the Misses Briggs, Ayer, and Dean, Messrs. G. B. Shaw, H. I. Black, F. G. Owen and N. R. Heater. The party remained over night at the Ward House and continued their journey Saturday afternoon, returning home on train No. 7 Sunday afternoon.

Unconscious Many Hours.

Harry A. Hess of Nordmont, fell from a charcoal dump at the chemical works recently, receiving injuries on the head which rendered him unconscious for 24 hours. He is getting along well and is out of danger.

25 YEARS OF AGONY ENDED

Boston Business Man Cured By Cuticura of Awful Humor Covering Head, Neck, and Shoulders After Hospital and Doctors Failed.

Under date of September 9, 1904, Mr. S. P. Keyes, a well-known business man of No. 149 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., says: "Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humour, completely covering my head, neck and shoulders, discharging matter of such offensiveness to sight and smell, that to my friends, and even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the —— hospital, during six months' efforts. I suffered on and concluded there was no help for me this side of the grave. Then I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura, and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured."

CUTICURA—THE SET, $1.

Complete Treatment for Every Humour from Pimples to Scrofula

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle; dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal; and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood. A single set is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring skin, scalp, and blood humours, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

COUNTRY FIREMEN PROTEST.

Say They Are Discriminated Against in Electing Officers.

Gettysburg gets next year's convention of the State Firemen, winning out over Chester by a vote of 275 to 224. Hazleton was given 15 votes. The election of officers did not develop into the lively contest anticipated, the following being chosen almost unanimously:

President, Aaron J. Henry, of Allentown; first vice president, Thomas E. Jones, of Pittsburg; second vice president, Bernard Bosch, of Oak Lane; third vice-president, John L. Lewis, of Lansford; fourth vice president, F. J. J. Connery, of New Castle; recording secretary, W. W. Wunder, of Reading; corresponding secretary, J. A. Green of Carlisle; treasurer, C. L. Reichenbach, of Allentown; delegate to national convention, Dr. G. W. Berntheizel, of Columbia.

The report of Secretary Wunder showed the association to be in good shape, with 112,000 members. Treasurer Reichenbach reported 885 delegates in the convention with a balance of $6018.46 in the treasury.

While the election of State officers was in progress many of the delegates protested at the treatment accorded the delegates from the small towns. They maintained they had been ignored and preference shown the delegates from the large cities. They accused President Berntheizel of discrimination and insinuated the election was carried on illegally. Many of them refused to cast ballots. Some spirited personalties resulted, and for a time the convention was in an uproar.

James S. Clarency, of Philadelphia, spoke upon the features of his fireman's relief bill, a measure which he expected would be so enlarged by the legislature as to give the fire fighters greater benefits. The foreign fire insurance companies, it was asserted, were defaulting largely in the payment of premiums into the State treasury, which went to furnish relief to firemen, and it was held the only way to make these companies realize their position was to educate the people to place their insurance with strictly home companies.

Thursday was the big day of the convention, it being parade day. About 137 companies were in the line of march, a majority of them with apparatus. Upward of 10,000 firemen were in line, among whom were companies from places in New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

EMPLOYES REST ROOM.

One Furnished by Belmar Company at Canton.

The second floor of the office building of the Belmar Manufacturing company at Canton is fitted up as a recreation room for the use of employes, says the Sentinel. It is very cosily arranged, and has a toilet room and a fire place. The walls are hung with photographs and engravings and the reading tables are well supplied with current literature. There is seating capacity for about one hundred, and it is the purpose of Mr. Marble, the manager, to provide occasional lectures and entertainments.

The first lecture was delivered by Rev. J. S. Lemon, D. D., of Gardner, Mass., on Friday evening of last week. His subject was "Jerusalem and the Hoy Land," and he gave some very interesting facts concerning the city, as viewed during his extended sojourn there. He also gave a delightful sketch of the history of the Jewish people. On the walls were displayed a choice collection of photographs of various points of interest in Jerusalem.

Base Ball's Best Friend.

Approximately 65,000 people attended the Athletic-Chicago base ball games last week. Probably not ten of them stopped to think what part newspaper advertising, free and paid, played in assembling the three great crowds that overflowed the grounds at 30th and Oxford streets, Philadelphia. Every business man who is also a base ball enthusiast might draw a profitable lesson from the national game by devoting a spare moment to a calculation of how many vacant seats there would have been during the record-breaking Chicago series of base ball had not it had such a helpful friend in publicity.

Storage Yard Full.

The Lehigh Valley Coal company has discontinued storing coal at Black Creek, it being stated that the large yard there is filled with small sizes of anthracite, buckwheat predominating. It is said by railroad men that there are thousands of tons piled up against the mountains. No reason is given for the discontinuance except that there is now a demand for the smaller sizes.

Built a New Church.

The friends in this section of Rev. Alfred H. Morrison of Baldwin, Kansas will be pleased to learn of his success in building a new Presbyterian church at Black Jack, Kans., one of the points of his charge. The building was dedicated free from debt on Sunday, Oct. 1. It cost $3,200, and $700 was raised on the day of dedication for heat, light and interior fittings.

TRAIN WRECKERS AT WORK.

That Bowman's Creek Branch Derailment Accounted For.

The Pittston Gazette prints the following information concerning the derailment of the locomotive of the Wilkesbarre-Towanda passenger train on Saturday evening:

"What might have been a serious accident occurred on the Bowman's Creek branch, of the Lehigh Valley railroad, on Saturday afternoon, when engine No. 505, attached to the passenger train, composed of two passenger coaches and a baggage car, leaving Wilkesbarre at 3:35 o'clock, left the rails at a point between Shavertown and Dallas. The engine was completely derailed but the tender stayed on the tracks, as did the coaches. The fireman, Amos Dietrick, jumped from the engine and was slightly shaken up in his fall. The engineer, Moses Miller, remained at the throttle of the engine but did not receive the slightest injury. After the engine left the rails it toppled partly over on its side. The rails were torn up for a short distance. Another engine was sent out and after the tracks wer repaired the train was taken on to Towanda. The damaged engine was later placed on the tracks and taken to the shops for repairs. It was three ro four hours before the track was repaired and the damaged engine removed. The accident was due to the malicious attempt of some one to wreck the train by placing spikes on the rails. The Valley detectives are working on the case and if the culprits are captured it will go hard with them."

TWO HUNDRED A NIGHT.

Wife of Former Canton Pastor to Sing for That Amount.

Rev. E. E. Riley, formerly of Canton and Mansfield, has resigned his pastorate of the fashionable Wanamaker church in Jenkintown, near Philadelphia. Whether the step is taken to allow his talented wife to gratify her vocal ambitions or from some other reason neither Pastor Riley nor the elders of his church will say. The Philadelphia Press understands, however, that Mrs. Riley has accepted an offer to go on the stage as a vocalist at $200 a night. She has a superb voice and at the time of their marriage was a soloist in an Elmira church. Mr. Riley began his ministerial career as a Methodist, but for some years past has been a Presbyterian. He was at Susquehanna for several years before he went to Jenkintown.

About a year ago Mrs. Riley won the $7,000 scholarship prize offered by Madame Lillian Nordica for the best amateur voice in America, but could not accept it because she was married.

Burgess Given Salaries.

By the action of the council of Duryea borough, the burgess, W. H. Warren, has had the perquisites usually attendant on that office taken away from him and has, in place of these, been placed on a salary of $15 a month. The new ordinance provides that all collections made by the burgess shall be placed in the borough fund. This order will, of course, affect succeeding chief magistrates of that town as well.

Cow Had Many Calves.

U. R. Ackley of Orwell has a cow seven years old, that has given birth to eight calves, among which were two sets of twins. He has at this time seven of the offspring on his farm. She gave birth when she was 18 months old to her first. The cow herself was born Sept. 22 in 1898.

A Tunkhannock Bankrupt.

Charles E. Goodrich, who has been engaged in the jewelry business at Tunkhannock, for the past five years, filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy last week Wednesday. His indebtedness is about $3,000, and his available assets amount, it is believed, to about the same amount.

Fiftieth Anniversaries.

On Tuesday, Oct. 17 there will be celebrated at Orwell the fiftieth anniversaries of the weddings of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Cowles Frisbie and Mr. and Mrs. George Chauncey Frisbie. Such occasions are rare and this will be an event of distinction.

JOHN M'DONALD DROPPED DEAD AT NEW ALBANY.

Lifelong Resident of Albany Township Answered Last Summons.

The New Albany Mirror of Oct. 4 gives the following particulars of the death of John McDonald of Albany township:

"This village was greatly shocked yesterday morning when it became known that John McDonald, a lifelong resident of Albany township, had dropped dead at the creamery here.

"He had been in usual health and brought his cream to the creamery as was his custom, carried the can into the building, came out to his wagon and fell to the ground, dying before Dr. Kingsley, who was hastily summoned, could reach his side.

"Deceased was 67 years of age and is survived by three sons and one daughter. He was highly respected by all who knew him."

OPINIONS BY FLEITZ.

Makes Decision Regarding Duties of Commissioners and Hospitals.

The attorney-generals department has furnished State Health Commissioner Dixon with an opinion to the effect that it is the duty of the county commissioners of counties where there are no poor directors to provide sustenance for all indigent persons residing within their districts who are afflicted with disease, who are kept from their regular employment by reason of quarantine established by the state health department.

In an opinion to the poor directors of Somerset county, Deputy AttorneyGeneral Frederick W. Fleitz decides that any person applying for admission to hospitals receiving state aid, must satisfy the authorities that he is unable to pay for treatment, and unless he can show that this is a fact they should refuse to admit him at all, or if there be extenuating circumstances he should be admitted only as a paying patient.

The Somerset county poor directors recently referred to the attorney-general's department a bill for $1 a day rendered by the Johnstown hospital for the treatment of a miner injured at Boswell. The deputy attorney-general decides that the poor authorities must pay for the patient.

FORMER SAYRE MAN BURNED.

Howard Clendenny the Victim of a Natural Gas Explosion.

Howard M. Clendenny of Olean, 24 years old, met a sudden and frightful death on Saturday afternoon by an explosion of natural gas in a house into which he was moving with his family. Clendenny was a machinist and lived for 20 years in Sayre. About two years ago he moved to Olean. Saturday while making the gas connections with a stove he smelled gas and after a time located it under the floor of a closet. He opened a trap door and struck a match when an explosion followed that blew him against the wall with force sufficient to leave portions of his clothing fastened to the wall.

With his cothes all ablaze Clendenny rushed to the rear of the house and jumped through a window to the street. He was hurried to the hospital, where he died in the evening.

Boom for Nichols.

The Borden milk condensery company has decided to erect a plant at Nichols, which will be a great boom for that flourishing village. The committee of prominent men of that village conferred with the official in New York city Saturday, when the company decided to establish a plant there. In order to obtain enough milk, arrangements have been made with the farmers in that vicinity to take care of 3,000 additional cows, which the Bordens will import into that vicinity. In a day or two the company's representative will come to Nichols and select a site for the condensery. This building will be a very large one, costing several thousand dollars. When the plant is in full running order it will employ twenty to thirty hands. Work on the building will begin immediately.—Owego Gazette.

Political Advertising.

All the leading morning papers of Philadelphia with the notable exceptions of The Press and Inquirer, contained a half page of advertising from the regular Republican organization of that city on Wednesday. The advertisement declares that "The newspapers of the city of Philadelphia, controlled in the main by Wanamaker, have denied, except by paid advertisements, representation to the Republican party, embracing a vast majority of the citizens of the city of Philadelphia." The newspapers in which the "ad" appears have intensified their assaults on the advertisers.

Dibble—Larabee.

By Rev. M. S. Godshall at the Methodist parsonage at Waverly Wednesday of last week at noon, John Dibble of Mountain Lake, and Miss Mala Larabee of New Albany were married.

Letter to M. Kaufman.

Towanda, Pa.

Dear Sir: Suppose you sold a suit of clothes; and the man came-back in six-months and showed it not half worn-out, but rusty, and banged awry. You would tell him he oughtn't to buy such clothes; but lots of good men won't buy any other; don't know any better; but these are the sort for him; you show him a bang-up suit and allow him a trifle for that mistake—it was a mistake, for you and him too. Next year he knows where to go, and his friends know too.

Devoe is that last suit in paint. There are shams by the score; Devoe is the true. The shams are expensive; Devoe is the cheap. The shams are absurd. Devoe is sound.

Yours truly

NEW WELLSBORO CHURCH.

Fine Methodist Edifice Dedicated Which Cost $31,000.

On Sunday, Oct. 1, the large new Methodist Episcopal church at Wellsboro was first opened for worship. The church cost about $31,000. The walls of towers of the building are of yellow brick with basement and trimmings of reddish brown Hummelstown sandstone.

The principal entrance to the handsome auditorium is by the oaken doors of the big portal on Main street at the Queen street angle of the building, and through a large and handsome double vestibule, or "arcade" with mosaic floor. The coloring of the interior beyond, whose floor slopes gently toward the pulpit in amphitheater form, is rich but subdued.

Oak woodwork, massive dark oak pews placed on a semicircular plan, dark green carpet, upholstery and hangings, radiators colored bronze green, light and dark olive green employed somewhat in the coloring of the walls; the main coloring of the walls and vaulted ceiling shading from pinkish buff to terra cotta; a dainty gleam of gilding or silver here and there; the jeweled lights of the windows—all, combined with beautiful lines and curves in construction and furnishings, make up a sumptous, extremely pleasing picture.

About $14,000 was raised for the erection of the building before its dedication. At the services on Sunday cash and pledges amounting to about $14,000 more were given. Mrs. Sarah M. Billings has been the most generous givers to the church, having contributed about $10,000 in all during her life time for this and other church purposes at Wellsboro.
